Lower Limits Are Slated on Men for Draft

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—Assistant Secretary of Defense Anna Rosenberg disclosed today the defense department is going to lower its physical and mental qualifications for military service "as far as security will permit."

She made the disclosure to the house armed services committee, which currently is hearing warm arguments for and against the proposal to draft 18-year-olds.

Later, Mrs. Rosenberg told reporters the 799,000 men who have been rejected by the draft for mental and physical reasons will be reappraised.

Could Take 150,000

Mrs. Rosenberg estimated for the committee that under the planned lowering of standards, the armed forces could take in about 150,000 limited service men.

She told the committee, however, that if standards are lowered appreciably it would be wise for congress to consider new pension liability.

Faces Questioning

The matter of draft standards was brought up in the hearing through questioning by Chairman Vinson, D., Ga., and Representative Elston, R., O.

Vinson was exploring possible ways in which the defense department could tighten draft deferments and possibly lower standards in order to provide the country with a "safety margin" of military manpower without inducting 18-year-olds.

The defense department has asked that the draft age be lowered from 19 to 18 and the period of draftee service extended from 21 to 27 months.

Frost Blamed For Series of Auto Crashes

Frost on streets, alone or in combination with frost on car windows and windshields, was blamed for four minor collisions investigated by city police while residents were driving to work Thursday morning. Police reported no injuries resulted from the collisions.

Said one officer by way of a warning "Get the frost off your windshield—you can't make an instrument flight in a car. And slow down for these frosty streets. They don't look slick but they are."

Fenders were damaged at 7:52 a.m. in a collision at the corner of Third street and Sixth avenue east involving a 1948 Plymouth driven by Rayburn A. York, 548 Lincoln street, and a 1935 Dodge driven by Albert Sharral, 1754 Borah avenue.

A collision at 9:47 a.m. at the corner of Third street and Second avenue west damaged the left front fender and bumper of a Twin Falls Canal company pickup truck driven by William R. Quigley and both right fenders and the side of a 1949 Dodge sedan driven by Wesley P. Peterson, 159 Heyburn avenue.

When a school bus stopped for a traffic signal at the intersection of Shoshone street and Second avenue east shortly before 9 a. m., it was hit by a pickup truck driven by Ernest O. Coates, 308 east Avenue D, Jerome.

The 60-passenger bus, driven by Dick M. Kirkman, was empty upon arrival of the investigating officer. Back of the bus and front of the truck were damaged.

No Turning

TOKYO, Jan. 25 (AP)—General MacArthur, briskly confident on the eve of his 71st birthdate, said today "there can be no turning back" from war against communism in Asia.

"Once American arms have been committed to battle in defense of moral principles," he said, "the Rubicon has been crossed. The die has been cast—and there can be no turning back.

"However long and difficult the road, we must fight on with all the power we can mount until victory is achieved."

The general made it plain he was speaking of the broad fight against communism in Asia, rather than the specific campaign in Korea.

What Safety Inspectors Are Finding

Fire, Electrical Officials Team-up for First Planned Fire Hazard Elimination

Two municipal departments are cooperating in this city's first planned inspection to eliminate fire hazards in the business district and its approximately 200 buildings—constantly used by the public, constantly packed with high-value property.

About one-half completed to date, this organized inspection has revealed only one building free of fire hazards. All others have hazards, which if not corrected, could start fires threatening life and property. Most common hazards are wiring defects, dangerous practices with hot ashes, faulty flues and heating equipment.

"The city can have little enthusiasm about buying new firefighting equipment if the citizens won't cooperate," says City Manager William R. Smith. The city building code and a fire ordnance provide for the prevention and elimination of fire hazards.

The regulations have teeth in them but in the past there has been little organized effort to enforce them. Hazards have been found previously by individual inspectors but there has been little follow-up action.

Now, in contrast, Fire Inspector Fred Higgins and Electrical Inspector Harry Smock are making joint inspections. They have scheduled certain hours daily for their inspections and follow-up action. They have the right of entry to any public building at reasonable hours, with laws to back their recommendations.

Fire Chief L. Z. Bartlett and Building Inspector Stuart Swan are enthusiastic over both the reception of the planned inspection program and the support given it by the administration. Refusing to take the credit for it, the city manager passes on their praise to the city commissioners.

Smock and Higgins report they are finding much cooperation in correcting the shocking number of hazards their inspections are revealing.

Harmony Is Broken In State Legislature

BOISE, Jan. 25 (AP)—Harmony between the two parties in the Idaho senate vanished today as the Democratic minority protested immediate appropriation of $2,000,000 to the state's permanent building fund.

On a standing vote, 29 to 15, the senate rejected a proposal from Sen. William J. Costley, D., Lewis, that the measure be recommended to the finance committee.

The senate eventually passed the measure, 30 to 13, but not before a few sharp remarks.

Meanwhile, the house, on a parliamentary maneuver, deferred consideration of the green stamp bill—HB 16, a measure which would outlaw stamps or coupons given by merchants for exchange for premiums.

Postponement Asked

When the bill came up on third reading Rep. William C. Smith, D., Shoshone, moved that it be postponed indefinitely.

Majority Floor Leader R. H. Young, R., Canyon, moved for a short recess. Later the house recessed until 2 p.m. out of respect to the late Alfred Budge, former supreme court justice.

In the senate roll call for actual passage of the appropriation bill, three Democrats and two Republicans crossed party lines. Sen. J. Kenneth Thatcher, R., Madison, and Sen. Seth Burstedt, R., Lemhi, voted against passage; Sens. L. Cotty Lowry, D., Benewah; Harry Sorenson, D., Caribou, and James Ingalls, D., Kootenai, for. The three Democrats are members of the finance committee.

Await Decisions

Costley asked that the bill be committed "until we can determine what is to be the final decision on education and the clearance of driftwood from some of the state departments."

Before taking its recess, the house passed five bills on third reading, including two to clarify city manager statutes. Action was completed on two senate-passed bills — the soldiers' vote bill and appropriating $1,000,000 for the civil defense fund.

After the appropriation fracas the senate passed five fish and game commission bills.

Still Critical

The condition of Ben Aspey, injured Monday morning in a headon auto collision south of Jerome, was reported still critical at noon today, by attendants at the Magic Valley Memorial hospital.

Mrs. Aspey was killed in the accident.

Donald Hine, Filer, driver of the other car involved in the collision, was reported in "fairly good" condition.

Joint Meeting of Flood Committee, Council Delayed

HAILEY, Jan. 25—The joint meeting of the Hailey city council and the Carey flood committee, scheduled for Wednesday evening, has been postponed indefinitely upon the request of Chet Moulton, state director or aeronautics. Moulton has expressed a desire to be present when the two groups meet.

The proposed meeting arose from the allottment of $7,500 to Blaine county from the state's disaster relief fund. The Carey committee asked the commissioners that the emoney be spent in the Carey valley since it was due to the efforts of Carey residents that the money was received.

In addition, the Carey committee has asked the Hailey council to waive its claim to the airport construction special tax fund since the first damage caused by floods is to the Carey airport. Last year Carey waived its claim to the fund to help Hailey in constructing its airport.

With the $7,500 and the airport fund Carey hopes to repair the point of diversion three miles above Carey, and to place head gates so the Little Wood river will go into its old channel. The present channel is higher than the airport level and a new channel cannot be built for less than $50,000, army engineers have estimated.

Idahoans Are Appointed for Water Panels

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—The National Reclamation association set up a five-man committee of western water users today to study the recent report of the President's water resources policy commission.

George T. Cochran, LaGrande, Ore., was named chairman. To serve with him are W. G. Sloan, Billings, Mont., co-author of the so-called Pick-Sloan plan for the development of the Missouri river basin; Guy Jackson, Anahuac, Tex.; Arvin B. Shaw, jr., Los Angeles, and R. J. Tipton, Denver.

Named by Polk

Harry E. Polk, Williston, N.D., newspaper publisher and association president, also appointed a committee to study the proposals for basin account pooling of revenues now under consideration by water users of the Columbia river basin and the upper Colorado river basin.

Its members are J. Kennard Cheadle, Spokane, Wash., chairman; Gilbert Jertberg, Fresno, Calif., and Silmon Smith, Grand Junction, Colo.

Report at Convention

Polk appointed a number of other committees, to report at the con-

Rival in Chicago Suing Coca-Cola

CHICAGO, Jan. 25 (UP) — The traditional nickel price for a soft drink was attacked in federal court today in a $750,000 anti-trust suit against the Coca-Cola Bottling company of Chicago.

The suit, filed by the Dr. Pepper Bottling company of Chicago, charged the defendant kept prices "unreasonably low" to strangle competition and drive smaller firms out of business.

Unlike most Coca-Cola bottling firms, the Coca-Cola Bottling company of Chicago is a subsidiary of the parent Coca-Cola company at Atlanta, Ga. Thus the suit could have nationwide ramifications.

Pay Control Plans Delay Freeze Call For Wages, Prices

From AP and UP Reports

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25—Disagreement over a formula for controlling wages was reported today to be holding up government orders for a general wage and price freeze.

In mid-afternoon, a spokesman for the office of price stabilization (OPS) and the wage stabilization board (WSB) told reporters no general freeze orders would be issued today. He said no decision had been made on when to issue them.

However, other officials indicated they expected the orders tomorrow.

The wage board is seeking a formula flexible enough to permit continued collective bargaining and cost-of-living pay increases during the control period.

Economic Stabilizer Eric A. Johnston conferred this morning with DiSalle and Ching on the forthcoming freeze orders.

The twin orders will make the government, instead of supply and demand, the sole arbiter of the prices of millions of individual articles, commodities and services sold by hundreds of thousands of business firms. And all wage and salary increases, with a few exceptions, will have to be approved by the government.

DiSalle said yesterday that meat and other foodstuffs, now selling at record or near-record prices in the retail stores, will be rolled back along with everything else.

Even as the control orders were rushed, the U. S. bureau of labor statistics reported retail food prices shot up 3.3 per cent from mid-November to mid-December, lifting the general cost of living to a record high. Further rises, still unrecorded in the bureau's index, have occurred since Dec. 15.

DiSalle said his enforcement staff, although still small, is set for immediate action. More and more agents were scheduled to move into key centers around the country in the next few weeks.

He said he has a few tricks up his sleeve that may make meat controls, for one, work better than they did in World war II.

Meanwhile, DiSalle ordered a price roll-back on domestic cattle hides and calfskins, effective Monday.

Prices will be rolled back to the highest level that prevailed in November. DiSalle said the roll-back will mean a reduction of 15 per cent or more in present prices.

The items affected are the basic raw materials of the shoe and leather industries.

Montanan Accused of Murder Pleads Guilty

GOODING, Jan. 25—Myrle C. Williams, 23, Manhattan, Mont., pleaded guilty in district court here Wednesday afternoon to a charge of first degree murder in the death of LeRoy M. Reems, also Manhattan, in Lincoln county last Oct. 20.

Williams, along with Alwirda Reems, 14-year-old daughter of Reems, was charged with the gunshot death of the girl's father. Both she and Williams made statements to Lincoln County Prosecuting Attorney Howard Adkins following their arrest that Williams had shot Reems accidentally while releasing the safety catch on a rifle.

Judge D. H. Sutphen, in accepting Williams' plea, scheduled a hearing and sentencing for Feb. 1. He then will consider any extenuating circumstances which may have a bearing on the punishment.

Counsel Waived

Williams volunteered to enter his plea before the regular time for arraignment in the next term of court which begins Feb. 5. He waived his right to have counsel appointed by the court.

Miss Reems, who is being held in the Jerome county jail because Lincoln county has no facilities for female prisoners, probably will be arraigned shortly after the new term opens, Adkins said.

Body Found in Pit

Reems' body was found in a gravel pit near Bellevue and, at first, the investigation was conducted by Blaine county officials. Following the arrest of the pair in Idaho Falls on Oct. 28 it was established that the crime was committed in Lincoln county and the case was transferred to Shoshone for disposition.

In statements made to officials Miss Reems first said Williams killed her father while her father was attacking her in the automobile in which the three were riding. Later she changed her story and claimed that she and Williams planned Reems' murder because her father would not let the 14-year-old girl and 22-year-old man get married.

Safety Slip Claimed

She said Williams shot her father through the open window of the automobile as Reems slept beside her in the car. She told officials she held her father's head on her shoulder as Williams shot. Both Williams and Miss Reems claimed, however, that the gun went off prematurely as Williams released the safety catch.

In the statements of both of the accused persons they said they carried Reems' body around on the back seat of the automobile for several hours while looking for a place to hide it. They finally picked a gravel pit five miles south of Bellevue and in plain sight of highway 93. It was several days, however, before the body was discovered by passing motorists.

"Ike" Leaves for Iceland in Return Journey to U. S.

PARIS, Jan. 25 (UP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower headed back to the United States today to support President Truman's troops-to-Europe policy and tell congress that military aid to western Europe is a calculated risk with a good chance of success.

He left Paris by plane at 8:55 a.m. (12:55 a.m. MST).

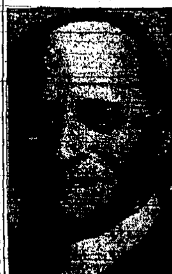

Eisenhower, who has toured Atlantic pact European capitals for three weeks in a search for men and arms for his international army, will visit Iceland and Canada before returning to the United States.

He will prepare a report for President Truman at West Point, N. Y., next week-end, go to Washington Wednesday, report to an informal joint session of congress the next day and probably give a nationwide radio address Feb. 2.

EX-JUSTICE ALFRED BUDGE

Retired Judge Alfred Budge, 82, Succumbs

BOISE, Jan. 25 (UP)—Alfred Budge, who served on the Idaho supreme court for 34 years and was the dean of Idaho's jurists, died today in St. Alphonsus here at the age of 82.

Death came a few minutes after 9 a.m. Judge Budge was the father of Rep. Hamer Budge, who had been summoned back from Washington when it became apparent that the retired jurist was failing rapidly.

Unequalled Public Life

Judge Budge's career embraced a public life considered to be unequalled by anyone in the state's history. He had served as a county prosecutor, district judge and supreme court jurist. His opinions from the bench constituted much of the history of Idaho jurisprudence.

He would have been 83 in February. He retired from the supreme court bench at the age of 80 on Dec. 31, 1948, after serving the high court for 34 years.

Entered Hospital Saturday

He had been seriously ill for a short time, having entered the Boise hospital last Saturday of difficulties incident to old age.

Judge Budge was a native Utahn, but declared he spent all of his life after the first 18 months in Idaho. He was born Feb. 24, 1868, at Providence, Utah, and after education at Provo and Logan academies he received a degree in law at the University of Michigan in 1892.

Admitted to Bar

That year he was admitted to the Idaho bar and began a career unparalleled in Gem state history.

In his 34 years on the Idaho supreme court, he wrote 1,800 opinions —a record. Seven years previously, the University of Idaho restowed on him an honorary degree of doctor of laws. In 1919, the University of Michigan gave him an honorary master of arts degree.

Bear Lake Prosecutor

His public career began in southeast Idaho's Bear Lake county, two years after he was admitted to the bar. First he became district attorney for the fifth judicial district, and then Bear Lake county attor-

Dates Set for Court Cases; Trials Slated

Dates for five jury trials of criminal cases, jury trials of eight civil suits and non-jury trials of seven other civil actions were fixed Wednesday by District Judge Hugh A. Baker. Trials will start at 10 a. m. on the date indicated.

Criminal cases to be heard by juries are those of the state against James W. Mayes, accused of grand larceny, Feb. 5; Aubrey O. Mayes, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, Feb. 7; Buck Hamlin, appealing a lower court decision on drunken driving, Feb. 8, and Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Kloppenburg, accused of perjury, Feb. 12.

Civil cases scheduled for jury trial include Reed Sand and Gravel company vs. Twin Falls highway district, Feb. 26; Dale O. Patterson vs. Wanda Wormsbaker and others, Feb. 28, and Commercial Credit corporation vs. Bev F. Marshall, March 1.

Five civil actions brought against Frank Clark and others will be heard by juries starting March 5. Plaintiffs are V. C. Bryant, Anthony S. Kresick and Joslyn D. Leyba, Bryant and Noal Larsen, ... and Dennis Beckman; ... sell J. Mayes and Earl W. ... Bryant, Elmerio Sato, ... Alex Sato and Maud Lynn.

Scheduled for court hearing without juries are these civil actions: R. H. Crowson vs. Mackey ... and others, April 2; Duncan ... Munn and others vs. Frank ... Potato King Urges Lifting of No. 2 Ban Now

Idaho potato growers should register their complaints immediately concerning the ban of shipment of U. S. No. 2 standards and utility grade spuds, according to Joe Marshall, "Idaho potato king."

Marshall advises Idaho spud growers to wire or write immediately to the department of agriculture in Washington, D. C. Although the industry has been hurt by the ban, which has been in effect since Jan. 8, there is still time to avert further damage if the ban is lifted immediately, Marshall says.

Like the U. S. No. 2 potatoes from Idaho, Gem state utilities are a competitive potato, particularly in the south, he says. Previously, he denounced the shipment ban as "confiscation of Idaho potatoes" and said it tended to eliminate competition. The same applies for utility grades, he declares.

However, the standard grade potatoes from Idaho have no competition, he explains. He adds that Idaho's standards bring the same prices paid for ordinary No. 1 potatoes. Utility grade potatoes from Idaho bring about the same price as grade A No. 1's, he adds.

As proof of his previous statement that the shipment ban on No. 2's, standards and utilities will hit Idaho growers and not affect Oregon and Washington growers, where the ban also applies, Marshall quotes potato shipment figures. As of Jan. 17, Idaho had shipped 22,717 carloads of 1950 potatoes as compared with 5,875 for Oregon and 7,397 for Washington.

Shipment totals for past years show that Idaho growers usually ship about twice as many potatoes as are shipped from Oregon and Washington combined, the potato king points out.

The 69 per cent of Idaho growers not participating in the price support program absorb all the damage inflicted in the three northwest states by the shipment ban, Marshall emphasizes.

"If you plan to keep raising potatoes, complain about this ban now before it's too late," Marshall advises spud growers. "Tell the department of agriculture you want the shipment ban against No. 2's, standards and utilities lifted right now."

"This ban will either ... to stop raising potatoes ... support payments," ...

ney. In 1902 he was elected district judge at Pocatello.

He held this office until 1914 when he was appointed by Gov. John Haynes on Nov. 25 to the Idaho supreme court. He served 10 years past the retirement age, declaring that "if I quit, I would die."

Overlooked Anniversary

When his 25th anniversary on the supreme court was noted, the jurist kept at work, and told a reporter he had overlooked the fact it was an anniversary.

His life in the Idaho court system was a primary factor in shaping the Gem state's legal precedence. Idaho had been a state only two years when he entered office, and Judge Budge wrote many opinions that have been preserved for posterity in textbooks of law.

He was a supreme court justice when the high court settled the state's water laws, thus ending violent disagreement between landholding neighbors in the state.

Decisions Upheld

Several of the jurist's decisions have been upheld by the U. S. supreme court, including the upholding of the first test case on the constitutionality of an Idaho law making possession of intoxicating liquor a crime.

The measure of his activity on the highest court was the year 1917, when he wrote 81 opinions, or one every six days counting holidays. Of these, 4 were majority opinions and 46 received a unanimity.

The judge is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ella Hoge Budge, to whom he was married in 1892, and eight children, Dr. Alfred Budge, jr., Dr. Bruce Budge, and Rep. Hamer Budge, all Boise; Drew W. Budge, now residing in Mexico; Walter L. Budge, Salt Lake City; Mrs. Ina Courson, Ontario, Ore.; Mrs. Ora Cleary, San Francisco, and Mrs. Belva Baker, Walnut Creek, Calif.

Planes Used To Evacuate Blasted Area

PORT MORESBY, New Guinea, Jan. 25 (UP)—Government administrator J. K. Murray said today all available planes are evacuating the 3,000 natives who survived the atomic-like eruption of Mt. Lamington volcano.

Murray said the evacuation was under way despite fears of new eruptions. The volcano, which has been active for a week, killed 3,000 to 4,000 natives and devastated miles of countryside.

It was reported "considerably active" again today but relief workers at Poppendetta, four miles beyond the blast area of last Sunday's major eruption, refused to leave the temporary hospital they had set up for care of injured natives.

"We'll stay on until the last minute," the head of the relief party said.

Communications between here and Poppendetta were cut off for several hours earlier today and it was feared another violent eruption had occurred. The Australian government banned all except evacuation aircraft from flying within 50 miles of the volcano.

12 Added Drills OK'd for Guard

The national guard has been authorized 12 additional outdoor training periods for the fiscal year which ends July 1, First Lieut. Lawrence Laughridge, 116th armored cavalry regiment adjutant, announced Thursday.

The drills are in addition to the authorized 48 pay drills each year. Personnel will receive one day's pay for their grade for each drill attended.

The additional training periods will stress qualifications and familiarization firing of individual and crew weapons; maintenance of proficiency in individual and unit tactical training; conduct of marches and practice bivouacs; radio and radio procedure, and truck driving.

Farmer Gains Bigger Cut of Food Dollars

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—The farmer is getting about 51 cents out of every dollar consumers spend for food, agriculture department officials estimated today.

This compares with 46 cents before the war started in Korea and with a peak of 54 cents in 1945. In the depression period of the '30's, the farm share dropped as low as 32 cents.

Margin Increases

This increase in the farmer's share, officials said, means prices of farm products have gone up more during the past seven months than have margins charged by food processors and distributors.

Retail prices of a typical quantity of food—described by the agriculture department as the "family market basket"—have gone up about 5.3 per cent since the Korean hostilities began.

As a unit of measure, the market basket contains quantities of farm food products equal to the annual average purchases of a family of three consumers in the 1935-39 period.

Jumps to $694

This quantity of food was priced at about $653 before the Korean war. By early this month, it had jumped to $694—an increase of $41. This price, however, was below the record of $713 reached in July, 1948.

The farmer's share of the food dollar varies greatly by commodities. It tends to be largest for meat and livestock products and lowest for grain products and vegetables.

Report Shows Farm Dip for Valley Count

The number of farms in Magic Valley took a drop in the five years between 1945 and 1950, the bureau of census of the department of commerce announced Thursday.

In 1945, the bureau points out, there were 8,575 farms in the valley as compared to 8,428 in 1950.

The bureau, however, qualifies its figures by saying that places of three or more acres were counted as farms only if products amounting to $150, exclusive of home gardens, were produced. Places of less than three acres also were counted if they produced crops amounting to more than $150. In 1945 places of more than three acres and less than three acres were counted as farms if they produced crops amounting to $250.

Twin Falls county dropped 224 farms in the count. In 1945 there were 2,847 farms in the county while in 1950 there were only 2,623. Lincoln county took a slight drop in the number of farms, from 460 in 1945 to 453 in 1950. Cassia county dropped from 1,293 farms to 1,248. Camas county dropped from 171 farms to 139.

All of the other counties in the valley showed increases in the number of farms. Blaine county had 297 in 1945 and 334 in 1950. Elmore, 398 in 1945 and 407 in 1950; Gooding 1,057 in 1945 and 1,065 in 1950; Jerome, 1,060 in 1945 and 1,111 in 1950; and Minidoka, 989 in 1945 and 1,058 in 1950.

State Mourns Budge Death; Flag Lowered

BOISE, Jan. 25 (UP)—Flags at the Idaho statehouse were lowered to half mast today as Gem state officials mourned the death of Justice Alfred Budge, 82, this morning in a Boise hospital.

The house recessed this morning until 2 p.m. in respect to the former supreme court judge.

Gov. Len Jordan declared, "Idaho today lost one of its great leaders in the passing of Judge Alfred Budge, who was a pioneer in Idaho's history and was loved and respected by thousands of Idahoans who will remember him always as an outstanding citizen, leader and statesman."

Smylie Lauds Career

Said Robert E. Smylie, state attorney general, "Judge Budge's passing brings to a close the most distinguished career in Idaho's judicial history. Extending down all the years from the days of the territory, Judge Budge's career has adorned the bench of Idaho with courage, integrity and honor. His death will be mourned by all who knew him."

The following statement was issued by the Idaho supreme court:

"With profound sorrow and a sense of deep personal loss, the present members of the supreme court learn of the passing of former Chief Justice Alfred Budge.

Served With Many

"He served for 12 years on the district bench and 35 years on the supreme court. Thus he was associated on the supreme court with all but five of the justices of the supreme court during statehood.

"The opinions in which he participated as a member of this court extend through volumes 26 to 69 of the Idaho reports. Those written by him are marked by a high order of fidelity to the fundamental principles of law, and constitute a monument to his memory which will always endure, evidencing his high character and indefatigable industry. He made invaluable contributions to our jurisprudence. The state has lost one of its most distinguished citizens and the bench and bar one of their most beloved members. Our condolences go to the bereaved family."

Rule Revision Is Sought for Basque Entry

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—Senator Dworshak said today he is trying to get the justice department to modify a ruling on the security act so Spanish sheepherders may be brought into this country for permanent residence.

While there is always a demand in western livestock states for herders from the Basque provinces of Spain, Dworshak said the manpower demands of industry and defense accentuate that need. The manpower shortage, he said, also prevents an increase in supplies of wool and meat.

The security law, sometimes called the anti-communist act, says any one now or ever a member of a totalitarian party or an affiliate of such a party cannot be granted a permit to enter the United States. The Falangist party of Spain has been declared by the justice department to be a totalitarian party.

The Basques, Dworshak told a reporter, fought against the Falangists as well as the communists. But, he added, the Spanish government has declared that anyone who was in the army or attended the public schools or lived in Spain during that country's civil war is a member of the Falangist party.

School Bus and 2 Trucks Sideswipe

RUPERT, Jan. 25 — No one was injured Monday in a collision between a Minidoka county school bus and two government trucks, Deputy Sheriff Curtis Edwards, who investigated the mishap, announced Thursday.

The accident happened near Minidoka dam, Edwards said, as the bus and the two trucks met on a slippery hill. None of the vehicles could stop and the trucks sideswiped the bus.

Mark Johnson, 26, Acequia, was driver of the bus and the trucks were driven by O. L. Broadhead, Burley, and J. Owen Ashcroft, also Burley.

Rupert police investigated two minor accidents in Rupert Wednesday morning. Automobiles driven by Catherine R. Knopp, route 1, Rupert, and Ray Ennis, also Rupert, collided at one intersection and five minutes later automobiles driven by Emil Oeck and Mrs. Jack Hitt, also Rupert, collided at another intersection.

11 Britons Slate Treasure Search

RYE, England, Jan. 25 (UP) — James Brownlie said today he will leave soon with 10 other men to search the South China sea area for Captain Kidd's $280,000 buried pirate treasure.

Brownlie, manager of the Rock Channel shipyards here, said his expedition will leave for Singapore in May. From there it will sail in a 65-foot motor trawler on a six-month search guided by maps he said were found in a secret drawer of Kidd's sea chest.

Gerrish Buys Sporter, Sets Sale of Stock

Howard Gerrish, operator of the Gerrish sporting goods store, announced Thursday morning that he has purchased The Sporter from Grant Padget and will consolidate the two businesses in the Gerrish building at 225 Main avenue south.

Gerrish said he would liquidate the stock of The Sporter prior to April 1 when the lease expires on the location in the Elks building. He said he would keep some of the fixtures.

The Sporter was started about 1944. The Gerrish sporting goods store has been in operation since about 1930 and prior to that Gerrish's father operated a furniture business, gradually changing to sporting goods lines. The older Gerrish started in business about 1910, selling used furniture.

Gerrish says he thinks the store is the oldest independent store still operating in Twin Falls with its original name. The Gerrish business has been conducted in the same location since 1910, he says.

Resident of Buhl Claimed by Death

BUHL, Jan. 25—Henry Lee, 85, a resident of Buhl since 1916, died at Blackfoot Wednesday morning following an extended illness. Mr. Lee farmed in this area until his retirement in 1940.

He was born Dec. 27, 1865, at Basel, Switzerland, and married Tillie Nieder, Feb. 9, 1890, at Rich Hill, Mo. They came to Buhl from Hollister.

Mr. Lee was a member of the Lutheran church in Missouri and belonged to the Modern Woodmen of America lodge for 50 years.

Surviving are his widow, Buhl; three sons and a daughter, E. H. Lee and Victor Lee, both Buhl; Mrs. Alva Pate, Scottsburg, Ore., and Roy Lee, Lakeview, Ore.; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Pike, Butler, Mo., and Mrs. Sophia Deller, Canton, Ill.; 14 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the Albertson Memorial chapel with the Rev. Edwin H. Wiebel, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, officiating. Burial will be made in the Buhl cemetery under the direction of the Albertson funeral home.

Uninspected Meat Brings Complaint

A complaint signed by Sanitarian James R. Ingalls was filed Thursday in justice court against James Murphy charging he failed to have an inspection made on a bovine animal.

The complaint alleges Murphy, acting as a meat peddler, sold or offered to sell one-half of a beef to E. W. Wilson without having the carcass inspected.

Camas Decision Upheld by Court

BOISE, Jan. 25 (AP) — The state supreme court upheld decisions of two district court judges today.

Affirmed was a Gem county district court decision awarding $4,000 damages to Alva H. Vancil from Clyde O. Anderson for violation of a non-competing covenant in sale of business. Anderson sold a half interest in an Emmett business with the agreement he would not enter a competing field.

The court also upheld a Camas county district court decision ruling that wheat grown on land sold under a conditional contract was the property of Maude E. Nuquist, instead of Fred Bauscher.

Confused

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Jan. 25 (AP)—A masked gunman flashed a blue steel pistol under Charles Rutherford's nose Tuesday night and said, "This is a stickup."

Rutherford, 60-year-old operator of a barbecue stand, refused to be interrupted. He told the intruder:

"I haven't got time to be stuck up. I'm trying to find a dipper to get my wife some ice cream."

Rutherford plodded toward a back room, still looking for the dipper. The flustered gunman fled.

House Okays Bill to Set up Air Command

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP) — The house has passed a bill giving statutory authority for establishing a tactical air command with prime responsibility for the air support of ground troops.

Actually, the department of the air force ordered such a command set up Dec. 1. Lieut-Gen. John K. Cannon flew to Langley air force base, Va., yesterday to direct its operations. Cannon recently commanded U. S. air forces in Europe.

The measure passed by the house and which now goes to the senate overhauls the statutes governing the air force setup, much the same as was done for the department of the army by the last congress.

The new tactical air command would have equal status with the existing strategic air command, whose mission is the bombing of key points behind an enemy's lines, and the air defense command, which has the responsibility for defending the United States from attack.

Before Dec. 1 the tactical command operated as a subordinate branch.

Free Mail Ruled Out for Defenses

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—Senator Magnuson, D., Wash., said today there appears little chance that local civilian defense organizations may be given free mailing privileges to keep the public informed.

He said he had inquired into the possibility at the suggestion of H. A. Benedict, Jr., director of the Clark county, Wash., civilian defense council. Benedict proposed that such privileges be granted down to the county level.

Opposition was expressed by the federal civilian defense administration, the postmaster general and the senate committee on postoffice and civil service, Magnuson said.

Thursday Set For "Ike" to Make Report

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will tell congress in person next Thursday about the progress and prospects of the European defense against the communist threat. He may report to the people by radio the next day.

The plan was announced in the house by Democratic Leader McCormack, Massachusetts. At the time national defense headquarters said the general, now completing a tour of his Europe-wide command as chief of Atlantic pact forces, will arrive back in this country Saturday.

The developments came on the heels of a spot check by the Associated Press which showed that the administration can feel sure the senate foreign relations and armed services committees will approve a resolution favoring the dispatch of American troops to Europe.

Out of the committees' combined membership of 26, reporters reached 21. As of today, 14 favored the proposal and none opposed publicly.

There is full expectation that General Eisenhower will urge the commitment of such troops. He will appear before the two committees next Thursday afternoon, following his address to the lawmakers in general. The next morning he will be closeted with the house armed services and foreign affairs committees.

ACEQUIA, Jan. 25—Marjorie Beckstrom has left for Jordan, Utah, to attend school.

Mine Fire Opens Escape Route for 14 Trapped Men

SULLIVAN, Ind., Jan. 25 (AP)—An underground fire that trapped 14 coal miners burned long enough last night to clear accidentally an escape route, and all 14 got out safely.

The only casualties of the conveyor belt fire in the Pandora mine were two miners overcome by smoke. They were not seriously injured.

Archie Clark, 45, Hymera, Ind., told a reporter the smoke and fire blocked the main passageway where the fire raged in the conveyor transporting coal to mine cars, which in turn haul coal to the central shaft. The 14 were working three quarters of a mile southwest of the shaft.

Finally, Clark said, the fire burned through a brattice partition that had sealed off a worked-out passageway in the mine. That let air from the mine ventilating system into the parallel passage, and the 14 made their way to the elevator cage at the bottom of the shaft.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 25 (AP)—An umbrella—"for support in his appeasement"—is on its way to Great Britain's Prime Minister Clement Attlee today.

Along with it, leaders of Newark Veterans of Foreign Wars posts sent the following cablegram last night:

"Dear Mr. Attlee:

"Just in case Mr. Chamberlain didn't leave you his, we are forwarding you an umbrella. It may come in handy in Peiping."

The wild rose is the state flower of Iowa.

Grazing Is Topic At Utah Conclave

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 25 (UP)—Utah wool growers' 44th annual convention entered its second day here today with a lively discussion over the uniform grazing act.

F. B. Carpenter, Hayden, Colo., former director of the federal bureau of land management, discussed the controversial issue, reporting on various phases of the act.

Association President Don Clyde said, "We know that the grazing act is a highly controversial subject, but we don't want the people, or other interests, to think we are out to grab a lot of land, and we feel that if everyone puts his cards on the table, we will understand each other better."

The convention opened yesterday with over 1,000 growers in attendance.

Senator Hopes for Farm Labor Pact

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—Senator Ellender, D., La., said today he hopes the United States and Mexico agree next week on a plan under which up to 200,000 Mexican agriculture workers can help harvest U. S. crops this year.

The two governments will negotiate the matter in Mexico City. Ellender will attend as chairman of the senate agriculture committee and representative of the agriculture department to advise the state department negotiators.

POCATELLO, Jan. 25 (UP)—Eli M. Oboler, Pocatello, president of the Idaho State Library association, said today he was glad to know the state legislature was considering doing something to improve Idaho's library conditions.

Oboler referred to two house bills introduced by Rep. W. D. Vincent, R., Ada. The Pocatellan, who is Idaho State college librarian, said the bills would strengthen the state's system of libraries and aid in better understanding with other states. The bills would set up a three-member state library commission.

SUCH HEROIC SPIRIT

What strange spark makes a man a hero in battle?

Perhaps it's something that really defies definition. Maybe we shouldn't try, but should instead just be grateful that we have heroes. For no one can doubt that any army is the better for the heroic deeds of its bravest men.

Five American heroes, all either dead or missing as result of the fighting in Korea, were honored by President Truman the other day with the nation's highest military tribute —the Congressional Medal of Honor.

Among the five was Gen. William F. Dean, a top U. S. field commander until his disappearance in action around Taejon last summer. The others: Lieut. Frederick Henry of Clinton, Okla.; Master Sgt. Travis Watkins of Gladewater, Tex.; Sgt. Charles Turner of Boston, and Pvt. Melvin Brown of Mahaffey, Pa.

All of these men performed acts of bravery above and beyond the call of duty. In almost every case, their courage saved the lives of other men, who went on to fight and may still be fighting. . .

Let's look at just one of these heroes, to sample the true quality of heroism under fire. We'll take Brown, who happens to be lowest in rank. A member of an engineers' combat battalion, he distinguished himself while his outfit was engaged with the North Koreans as his platoon was attempting to secure what was known simply as Hill 755. Brown's citation reads:

"Taking a position on a 50-foot-high wall, he delivered heavy rifle fire on the enemy. His ammunition was soon expended and, although wounded, he remained at his post and threw his few grenades at the attackers . . . When his supply of grenades was exhausted, his comrades from nearby foxholes tossed others to him and he left his position, braving a hail of fire, to retrieve and throw them at the enemy.

"The attackers continued to assault his position and Private Brown, weaponless, drew his intrenching tool from his pack and calmly waited until they, one by one, peered over the wall—delivering each a crushing blow upon the head. Knocking 10 or 12 enemy from the wall, his daring action so inspired his platoon that they repelled the attack and held their position."

Of such stuff is the defense of liberty made.

Private Brown may never again walk the streets of Mahaffey, Pa. But wherever freedom is enshrined, his memory will reside for all time.

CONTINUED MISREPRESENTATION

Many who do not agree entirely with the Taft-Hoover policy on large-scale use of American troops abroad are becoming incensed over the administration's continued attempts to misrepresent the real viewpoint of the Ohio senator and the former President.

Administration spokesmen and defenders, including members of congress, pro-White House columnists, radio commentators and other propagandists persist in their reiterations that ex-President Hoover demands a complete and immediate withdrawal of our forces to the mainland so as to transform the western continent into a "Gibraltar of civilization." Such a position would be vulnerable to criticism and attack, of course, if Mr. Hoover had rested there.

But they also persist in omitting or deleting his extremely important qualification, and one which is advanced by many military experts at the Pentagon. Indeed, it is this qualification which lies behind the Eisenhower mission to Europe.

Mr. Hoover urged withdrawal only if our allies did not build a "sure dam against the Red flood," or at least show the kind of morale and willingness to sacrifice that will make possible such resistance. This is the proviso of the Hoover utterance which is rarely or never mentioned.

Mr. Taft has said (1) that a Russian attack against western Europe should be regarded as an attack on the United States, and (2) that we should reinforce our overseas allies in such an event.

But he maintains that, before committing a sizable force to western Europe, especially as it is to be a long-range and possibly permanent venture, President Truman should ask and obtain senate sanction.

There are obvious reasons, of course, why some would like to depict Senator Taft as a rabid isolationist, and thus weaken his chances for the 1952 presidential nomination.

PETRIFIED BRAINS

In Brazil are some 400,000 Japanese. Reports drifting north say that about three-fourths of them refuse to believe that Japan lost the war. Everything that has been done and said since 1945 with respect to their homeland they dismiss as U. S. propaganda.

If these accounts are properly noised about, we can expect a big rush of communist agents into the Japs' midst. What rich pickings red recruiting officers ought to find there!

It isn't often you discover in one big cluster some 300,000 people who are ready to believe black is white. Since that is a prime prerequisite for life in the Communist party, the wonder is the reds have waited this long to exploit such a treasure.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, New York, has mapped an expansive political program for himself, the nation and the Republican party for the next few turbulent years. Here it is:

Ray Tucker

As of today, Governor Dewey favors the nomination of Gen. "Ike" Eisenhower by the GOP in 1952. As against the Taft-Hoover philosophy, Dewey leans toward the Truman-Eisenhower-Dulles-Vandenberg belief in complete intervention in Europe by our armed forces.

Should the 1952 presidential contest become a duel between the Dewey-Eisenhower forces and the Taft-Hoover faction, Governor Dewey expects to be the decisive factor.

Besides New York's 94 delegates, he believes he will command the 300 nominators who backed him in 1944 and 1948. With that support, Dewey could nominate General Eisenhower, so he thinks. And, despite Sen. Robert A. Taft's growing strength, a Dewey-Eisenhower alliance would make a formidable political combination.

• • •

EDGE—Should General Eisenhower still be involved in European military problems in 1952, and therefore unavailable as a presidential candidate, Dewey might seek the nomination for a third time.

Despite his two defeats, he does not think that he has been counted out. He believes his attitude on foreign affairs, especially as it coincides with Wall street's, will give him an edge over the "isolationist bloc" headed by Senator Taft.

Dewey has another arrow in his political quiver. He is convinced, along with many veteran observers at Washington, that President Truman eventually will get rid of Dean Acheson as secretary of state, and that Gen. George C. Marshall will resign soon as secretary of defense.

Governor Dewey does not want Dean Acheson's job. But he does hanker for the defense post, regardless of the effect of its acceptance on his immediate political fortunes. He will not accept a cabinet responsibility, however, unless he is given a free hand at Washington.

• • •

QUESTIONS — General Eisenhower, incidentally, will be asked several embarrassing questions when, as President Truman's military scout, he testifies before several congressional committees on the state of European rearment, and the willingness of those countries to resist a possible Russian invasion.

General Eisenhower's European tour has been observed closely by members of the armed services and foreign relations affairs committees in the house and senate.

They noted that, after visiting the international spy and espionage city of Lisbon, Portugal, he skipped Madrid, Spain, and flew directly to Rome. In the opinion of capitol hill, he made a diplomatic rather than a military mission on this leg of his journey.

• • •

UNDEMOCRATIC—Portugal's military forces do not match the strength of the national guard in New York or Illinois. Militarily, it has no value in the defense of western Europe.

Moreover, Portugal's government is more fascist and undemocratic than Franco's in Spain, Tito's in Yugoslavia or even Stalin's in Russia. Yet General Eisenhower saw fit to consult with the Salazar regime.

Under treaty, Italy cannot organize or maintain an army, navy or air force. In two World wars her soldiers did not stand up against the Germans or the Austrians. Italy, next to France, has the largest number of communists in her population.

• • •

TROUBLE — In contrast to Portugal and Italy, Franco of Spain has 22 divisions with at least 1,000,000 tough fighters in reserve. Outside of Russia and Yugoslavia, Spain has the most powerful military force on the European continent.

General Eisenhower may have trouble in answering congressional questions on his failure to include Madrid in his exploratory mission, unless he spills the undiplomatic news that President Truman and Secretary Dean Acheson ordered him not to ask for Spain's help in a possible World war III.

• • •

INCIDENT—A seemingly trivial incident in the senate shows how much smarter the anti-Truman opposition is than the batch of White House spokesmen and leaders.

When Mr. Truman sent his enormously expensive budget message to congress, it was first read in the house, which meant that it would be published in the Congressional Record for all members to read.

When Vice President Barkley proposed a rereading in the senate, meaning a duplication and reprinting of the house recording, there was an objection. So, the expert parliamentarian from Virginia, Sen. Harry F. Byrd, saw his chance.

In lieu of a reprinting of the Truman budget on the senate side, he placed in the Congressional Record an analysis showing how proposed non-defense expenditures could be reduced by $7,000,000,000 annually.

This seemingly unimportant incident is significant because it shows that the so-called White House leadership in both house and senate, either because it is anti-Truman or just plain dumb, cannot compete with the experienced generals of the coalition of Republicans and southern Democrats.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

EISENHOWER TALKS WELL

If words will play an important part in shaping of future events, the words of few men will be as important to the world as those of General Eisenhower.

His is far more than a task of simply being commander of the North Atlantic army. First he must obtain an army to command, by prodding the members of the North Atlantic community into building a fighting force adequate for the defense of the west as rapidly as possible.

This he began with an especial appeal to west Europe's conservative leaders. As soon as he landed at Orly airport in France, he said the west cannot afford to endanger its culture by "neglect, laziness or indifference."

Yet the months while the army is being built will be a time of great danger for the west. Nobody can be sure what the Kremlin's reaction to the construction of a North Atlantic army will be, but there is widespread fear in the free world that it might provoke a Soviet attack.

Consequently it is incumbent upon General Eisenhower, and other leaders of the free world, to stress repeatedly the theme that we are rearming to preserve the peace.

Reiterated statement of our true goals to reassure the Kremlin and the people of the free world is an essential for the uncertain months that lie ahead.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

HOLLYWOOD FADEOUT

It is going to be a shock to a lot of Hollywood press agents to learn that the American people are more interested in what is happening on capitol hill at Washington than they are in what is going on along Sunset boulevard.

At least, that is the finding of Poll Expert Elmo Roper. He says 82 per cent of Americans are interested in reading news about congress while only 52 per cent, including the bobby-soxers, are interested in film capital doings.

What is America coming to?

Mr. Roper does not mean, we are sure, that Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R) of Maine could outpoint Betty Hutton in a musical revue or that Bob Taft could induce as many swoons as Clark Gable.

In this day and age people, in spite of themselves, are forced to be more concerned with taxes than with whether Hopalong Cassidy catches the stage robbers in the last reel—that the draft and ECA and communism loom larger in people's lives than the question of which movie star is squiring whom to the Hollywood night spots. . . .

Of course, it is a fine thing for Americans to be interested in and concerned about their government. But is that any reason why we can't drop a reminiscent tear for the days when life was so simple and untroubled that Americans had nothing more important to do than worry about the Perils of Pauline?—Denver Post.

POT SHOTS

AVAILABLE ON APPROVAL?

We hear a Twin Falls gal was quite surprised the other day when she picked up the phone and heard something like this:

"Your husband was down here the other day looking at blond models. We didn't have any but we expect some in next week. Is he still interested?"

Some eyebrows went up and some questions were asked. Friend husband answered a few questions, too.

It developed the items in question were blond models of console radios.

We never heard, but we were wondering if hubby, after inspecting the blond models, found out whether they were available on an approval basis.

PUPS FOR KIDS DEP'T.

Here's another of those pooches that might result in lots of phone calls to one telephone. The number is 2802-W. The pooch is a 4-month-old, honey-colored cocker spaniel, female.

Dear Sir:

We have one female, white with black spots and trimmed in brown, ideal for children. Will be just a small dog when full grown.

We live in about the ninth house west on the north side of North street at the end of Yakima in Filer.

Edwards Residence

P. S. The pup is approximately two months old.

• • •

ANOTHER SIDE

Dear Pot Shots:

"Grocery Clerk" evidently doesn't see all. If I had money enough, I would buy many things when reasonably priced in advance of my needs.

Various stores in Magic Valley have done such things as mark up prices on prints displayed all summer, but marked up 10 cents a yard in August. A few months later the same material was marked up another 10 cents a yard. Identical Christmas tree light sets varied as much as 30 cents in price from store to store.

For at least five years, children's shoes that wear no better are twice as high. Lately, pepper costs 60 cents a pound more. A few years ago, articles at a fire sale were marked up 50 per cent. A specific grocery store marks all its articles a few cents higher than listed price.

Doesn't this justify the customer's excessive buying, particularly when prices are raised without justification?

NOW WE'RE CONFUSED

Dear Pots:

Just read that a woman collected for naming Lake Bonneville as the answer to a radio question and then someone comes up that it's name was Lake Payette.

About two weeks ago I read in the T-N where the Idaho Power company dug down to the clay that once formed the bottom of Lake Hagerman which once covered most of southern Idaho.

Wonder who is right—if anyone.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

NEW YORK—I am tired of being called a fascist by corruptioneers who, knowingly or not, are disloyal to the constitution of the United States.

Westbrook Pegler

I say they are disloyal because they constantly holler up democracy. The form of government which the constitution provides for my country is the republic. Democracy was pointedly rejected because of its evils.

I am not going to expatiate on the distinction between the republic and democracy today. I have done so, thoroughly and irrefutably, before.

I declare that any public official who swears the oath to uphold the constitution and then turns right around and talks about preserving "our democracy" is a traitor to the United States of America.

That goes for every public official from a President down to the most venal rapscallion on the sorriest county board. The guilt is the worse, if possible, in every schoolteacher who defiles the innocent minds of our children with the same lie.

• • •

I am a Republican. The people who most often call me fascist are fascists themselves. Most of them thought Roosevelt was "democratic" because he contemptuously called them by their first names.

I say he was just patronizing and vulgar. No man can patronize me.

Many of them deify the man who ruined my wonderful country and betrayed us to the Soviet enemy in many ways. Knowingly and with guilt he permitted the permeation of his national administration with traitorous Soviet spies.

Roosevelt was a fascist, which is just a communist in a distinctive shade of shirt. The national recovery administration under the sign of the blue eagle was absolute fascism.

I want to rub that in.

He cherished that foul design of his so ardently that when the supreme court properly held that it violated the constitution of our great republic, he immediately set about corrupting the court with fas*cists who would uphold him in any*thing else he might attempt to do to destroy the republic.

That was pure fascism.

Hitler packed his courts, too.

Yet, I have incurred hatred and obloquy from poor, misguided emotional dupes because I will not bow my head when pagans intone the name of a mortal man as though it were the name of God almighty.

• • •

I know God almighty's name. It wasn't Roosevelt, and no fanatic ever will compel me to deify the man who squandered our treasure to build up a mighty, atheistic enemy and, in our name, betrayed the trusting people of Poland to a fate which is worse than death because it is the agony of death prolonged for years, with death not yet in sight.

People of Poland, hear me! People of all the slave lands behind the iron curtain, hear me! The people of the United States did not betray you!

Franklin D. Roosevelt betrayed you.

He betrayed us, too. He betrayed us all, knowingly, deliberately and flippantly, because he was a vain, cynical, evil man without morals or compassion.

The political phase of that paganism is socialism tending toward communism.

*We are spied upon by profession*al sneaks. Our confidential conversations are recorded. Money is sluiced into cow-state elections to nullify the votes and citizenship of worthy Americans.

Loathsome spies are planted in our confidential employment. Professional radio blackguards befoul the names of noble patriots. Did you ever hear of Goebbels?

• • •

Some of the scoundrels, many of whom are themselves not Jews and who may even be secret haters of Jews, call some Jews anti-Semites. That is almost incredible, but it is true.

Some of my friends of prominence who are Jews are called fascists because they defy these attempts to control their political thoughts.

George Sokolsky is one of the finest men I have ever known. I wish we were all as religious, each in his own faith, as George Sokolsky is.

Yet, because he absolutely will not accept the blasphemous myth of Roosevelt's divinity or even the myth of his wisdom, this noble and learned Jew is called not only a fascist but an anti-Semite.

My friend, the late Ben Stolberg, went through hell for years just as my friend, Jim McGuinness, suffered for the same reason.

• • •

Stolberg was taught the Jewish religion in his childhood and because he steadfastly had professed it and lived up to that religion, his career in the United States from his greenhorn days as a *penniless immi*grant was a saga.

He was a spiritual man. But he fought the totalitarians and that made him an anti-Semite.

So is Gene Lyons, a Jew. So, too, Alfred Kohlberg, a Jew. The good Rabbi Schultz has been called a fascist for fighting communism.

What an evil miasma this is! Strike at it and it is insubstantial. It is a poison vapor. It is persecuting patriotic men, Jew and Christian, with remorseless stealth for trying to preserve our great, wonderful republic.

Did I say "republic"?

By God, yes, I said "republic!" Long live the glorious republic of the United States of America.

Damn democracy to hell!

Good Will Club's 30 Members Give $500 to Hospital

The 30 members of the Good Will club, Twin Falls, made a $500 contribution to the new Magic Valley Memorial hospital Wednesday to furnish a room in the new building.

The donation was made in memory of the late Mrs. J. R. Neilsen, former president of the Good Will club and nurse at the hospital. Mrs. Neilsen was club president when the hospital donation project was started in March, 1948.

The presentation of the check was made by Mrs. K. H. Carr, club president, in the room the club money will furnish. Members of the club toured the new hospital under the direction of Supt. James Clifford McGilvray.

Explosion Report Changing Search

CASPER, Wyo., Jan. 25 (UP)—Report of an explosion from a remote mountain village in northwestern Wyoming today swung a search for a private plane missing with five persons aboard along the Wyoming-Montana border.

A woman at Clark, Wyo., just south of the Montana border, said she heard an explosion about seven or eight miles from Clark Thursday, the day the plane disappeared.

Authorities said the report tied in with one from Dry Creek, Mont., where an oil camp superintendent said he saw a large "silver colored" plane circle his camp the same day.

DANCE PLANNED

ACEQUIA, Jan. 25—A square dance will be held Saturday in the high school gymnasium for the March of Dimes. Red Bennett will be the caller. The Acequia PTA is sponsoring the affair. Mrs. Kenneth Rochford is dance chairman.

U. S. to Take Part in Asian Living Studies

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (UP)—The United States decided to send a representative to a meeting in Ceylon which will study ways of improving the living standards of India, Pakistan and other southeast Asia countries.

One aim is to ward off the march of communism by alleviating poor living conditions which, officials feel, provide breeding grounds for red intrigue.

The U. S. move was regarded as doubly significant, in that it comes at a time when India and some other Asian nations are bucking United States plan to brand red China an aggressor in Korea.

It was regarded as a gesture of friendship toward the southeast Asiatic area. Whether it will be backed up by a large new outpouring of funds probably will be determined by congress. And some congressmen have indicated their attitude will be determined partly by the degree of solidarity displayed by non-communist nations in the U. N.

Secretary of State Acheson said this country will be represented by Donald Kennedy, deputy director of the office of south Asian affairs in the state department, and by Myron Black, economic officer of the American embassy at Colombo, Ceylon.

ATTEND DISTRICT MEET

CAREY, Jan. 25—Robert C. Day, Carey high school agriculture instructor, accompanied his FFA boys to the district FFA meet last week at Gooding. Others making the trip were Donald Green, local president; Shirley Reay, vice president; Clayne Chaumell, secretary, and Dan Ralls, sentinel. Green and Dennis Draper, reporter, attended as delegates from the local chapter.

Reds Defeated In One Round Of Law Fight

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—The Communist party has lost a round in its fight to prevent—or at least delay—hearing on a demand that it register as Moscow-controlled.

The subversive activities control board refused (1) to pass upon the constitutionality of the 1950 internal security (McCarran) act; (2) delay hearings to permit the Communist party to seek a court test.

Attorney Speaks

Commenting on the board's decision, former Rep. Vito Marcantonio, ALP, N. Y., counsel for the Communist party, told a reporter:

"The whole matter will be brought before the courts within the next few days in defense of the constitution."

The first and only business before the subversive activities control board so far is a petition by Attorney-General McGrath for an order to require the Communist party to register, list its officers and members, and give a financial accounting.

Funds Provided

The senate rules committee voted to give a judiciary subcommittee $75,000 on top of $10,000 already available, for a broad investigation of communism and other subversive activities.

The subcommittee, headed by Senator McCarran, D., Nev., is expected to function as a sort of counterpart of the house un-American activities committee.

House Passes Plan for Free GI Insurance

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—A free $10,000 life insurance policy for every serviceman while on active duty won house approval yesterday, 390 to 0.

The senate has yet to act on the measure, which has been endorsed by President Truman.

The new program would be retroactive to the outbreak of fighting in Korea last June 27 and would apply to all servicemen in the future.

It would take the place of the present national service life insurance (NSLI) program. Servicemen covered by NSLI, which is optional, must pay small premiums.

The free GI insurance would expire 90 days after discharge while NSLI may be continued or converted to other forms after separation from the service. NSLI policies now in force would not be affected by the new program.

Club Speaker Opposes Plan To Cut Funds

Idahoans are living in a "great state" where citizens are petitioning the government for a bigger police force and at the same time are cutting some $9,000,000 from the educational fund.

This was the assertion made Thursday noon at the American Legion hall by Don W. Martin, Pocatello, superintendent of public grade schools in Pocatello as he spoke at the regular weekly luncheon session of the Twin Falls Kiwanis club.

Anniversary Marked

The meeting marked local observance of the 36th anniversary of the founding of Kiwanis international. The visiting speaker declared that "we had better roll back the pages of history."

Using as his topic "Education in Idaho," he declared that because of the deplorable condition of the country "it is time we are doing something about it." He said that Idaho can ill afford to do away with the two teacher colleges it now has. Continuing, he said:

Questions Leadership

"In West Point we develop army leaders. In Annapolis we develop navy leaders. Tell me, where has the institution gone today in which we build leadership?

"Is what we are doing here today the thing that inspired Lincoln, the thing that inspired Washington, the thing that inspired Woodrow Wilson?"

Worry Claimed

Turning to the importance of the teaching profession, the speaker told Kiwanis members that the "teachers are worried for your children" although, at times, he has felt personally that the teacher should not worry about someone else's youngsters. Pointing out that because of the shortage of trained teachers, many "oldtimers" are coming back into the profession for a year or two, he added:

"You men send the most priceless possession you have (your children) to untrained technicians."

Poses Question

He asked that if the college at Albion will turn out from 25 to 100 trained teachers a year, to be absorbed into the various school systems "isn't it worthy of you" to accept the challenge and to keep the school in operation?

"You are doing away with constructive, fundamental, basic thinking," he declared, pointing out that in his opinion the home is fast moving into oblivion.

Important Role

Backing up this statement, he pointed out that statistics show that less than 50 per cent of the people of the United States "ever get inside a church" and that less than six per cent of the youngsters from 6 to 18 years "ever see the inside of a Sunday school." He inferred that, if for nothing else, the roll of properly trained teachers was important.

One thing wrong with the nation, Martin said, is that we have gone from the thinking of "love thy neighbor" to one of "get all you can and can what you get; get your neighbor before he gets you."

Points to Slogan

A member of the Pocatello Kiwanis club, the educator asked local members to remember the slogan of Kiwanis—"We Build."

"We build what?" he asked. "What do we build for?"

"You men had better start to think positively, not negatively. Last year there were 270,000 youths sold down the river of delinquency. Sixty per cent of the youths entering the primary grades never get through high school. Yet you would cut down the educational program."

Presents Program

The speaker was introduced by Fred Ingraham, program chairman for the day.

Ingraham also introduced two new members of the local club. They are Frank H. Feldtman, of the C. A. Robinson agency, and Melvin O. Olison, Idaho Power company. President Ray J. Holmes conducted the business session which also featured a report on underprivileged child work by Fred Rudolph, committee chairman.

Kenneth Montgomery, program chairman for the year, announced next Thursday's session would feature a program built around observance of the 30th birthday of the local club. O. P. Duvall will be in charge.

Hearing Waived

KIMBERLY, Jan. 25—Dennis Melton, Twin Falls, waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to district court when arraigned Wednesday morning before Justice of the Peace Ray F. Potter on a charge of forgery. Melton posted the $350 bond set by the court. He was arrested by Sheriff Jesse Carlton.

Country Boy Curiosity Comes Out as Hank Hears Neighbors

By HENRY McLEMORE

I am a man who does not jump at conclusions.

I do better than that—I leap at them. I count that day lost whose setting sun does not find me with a too hasty conclusion in my creel.

McLemore

Today's conclusion is that those of us who dwell in the city should count ourselves lucky for not having friendly neighbors.

Ever since I was 3 years old, and strong enough to toddle next door to borrow a cup of sugar, I have had my ears assailed with the American belief that there isn't anything like a nice neighbor.

In New York a man doesn't have to put up with that.

I've been living in the same apartment for several months and the only person I know in the building is someone I have known for years. My sugar is still intact. So is my lawn mower, my extra coffee cups, my privacy.

The residents of New York, who give more to charity than the folks of any other city in the world, would no more think of rapping on a neighbor's door and offering their friendship than they would of giving you their seat on the subway.

For the life of me I can't see the beauty of talking over the wash line, running next door to take phone calls for a family that is out, or swapping coffee, or any of the other 101 things neighbors in small towns delight in doing.

This too: I have lived in small towns long enough to know that sometimes neighbors don't like one another; talk about one another; but keep on acting as if they were kith and kin when — should the truth be told—they'd like to ask the other to get out—move to another block.

I must admit, though, that the people who live above me fascinate me. I wish to goodness they would call on us so I could get a look at them. I'd even lend them some demi-tasse cups to piece out their set for a dinner party.

I have tried to figure them out by the noises they make. One of them—whether it is the husband or the wife I don't know—wears a diving bell all the time. What a racket those shoes of lead make!

I am curious enough to want to meet a man or woman who wears a diving bell at all hours. I ask myself these questions.

Is there buried treasure in their living room? Is their apartment under water? Do they have mermaids for children?

Honestly, you never heard such noise in your life.

Then, right in the middle of lead shoe stomping, we hear the pitter-patter of soft-shod feet. That makes it all the more confusing. Right above us is there a ballet of soft shoes and lead shoes?

Then, for a second, all will be quiet. Not a sound. Quiet as an undernourished churchmouse.

The next second hammers start hammering, saws start sawing.

A cabinetmaker, I say to myself.

Then the shoes start clumping.

I gotta do it.

I gotta go up there, knock on the door, ask them if they can lend me some flour, and if they would like to use our washing machine.

Maybe I'm a small-town boy at heart, after all.

Maybe the Empire State building never will be as tall, in a country boy's heart, as a barn.

House Receives Plan for Panel To Debate Pact

BOISE, Jan. 25 (AP)—A bill introduced in the Idaho house yesterday would authorize the governor to appoint five Idaho delegates to work out a Columbia river basin compact with six other western states.

The measure, HB 52, would provide that the state reclamation engineer would be one of the five members of the Idaho commission to work out a compact respecting the diversion, distribution and further utilization of the Columbia river and its tributaries.

States joining Idaho in the proposed compact would be Washington, Oregon, Montana, Nevada, Utah and Wyoming. The bill stipulates that the compact would not be binding until ratified and approved by the legislatures of at least five of the states, including Washington, Oregon, Montana and Idaho and the congress of the United States.

A similar commission composed of representatives of Idaho and Wyoming arrived at an agreement concerning disposition of waters in the Snake river.

C. A. Richards, Rupert, Succumbs

RUPERT, Jan. 25 — Military funeral services for C. A. Richards, who died suddenly at 10 a. m. Tuesday in his home here, will be conducted by the Rupert post of the American Legion at 2 p. m. Saturday at the Goodman mortuary.

Mr. Richards was born Feb. 5, 1894, in Walnut Springs, Tex. He enlisted in the navy in 1914 and served 18 years before receiving final discharge in 1942. He and his wife moved to Rupert in 1944.

In addition to his widow he is survived by his mother, Mrs. Nora Rutherford, and a half brother, Bill Rutherford, both Fort Worth, Tex.

Burial will be made in the Rupert cemetery.

Solon Blasts U.S. Support For Potatoes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP) — Representative Dempsey, D., N. M., told the house yesterday the potato price support program is "pouring millions and millions of dollars down a rathole at a time when we are to be 'taxed until it hurts' to provide for the nation's defense."

He called for a halt of this "shocking" and "shameful" situation.

Reads Article

The New Mexico member read from an article in the Washington Post, as follows:

"From June 30 to Jan. 1—the first six months of the Korean war—the army quartermaster bought almost $5,000,000 worth of potatoes for the armed services.

"In the same period another government agency—the agriculture department's production and marketing administration—bought $23,278,000 worth of spuds, and destroyed $22,130,000 worth."

Cites Explanation

If that didn't shock the house members enough, Dempsey told them, perhaps the explanation he received from the production and marketing administration would.

"An official of that agency said," he related, "that there really wasn't much point to the department of agriculture turning potatoes over to the armed forces. It would simply leave that many more surplus potatoes which the department of agriculture would be obligated to buy."

Dempsey said the potato support program, as now operated, is "asinine" and "one of the most ridiculous situations ever to face this country."

Research Meeting Slated at U. of I.

MOSCOW, Jan. 25 (AP)—The University of Idaho's agricultural research program will be under discussion here Feb. 19-24.

The meeting will be attended by the university's agricultural research scientists, extension specialists and branch experiment station workers.

More than a dozen panel discussions will be held on irrigation, soils and fertilizers, potatoes, animal nutrition and the state seed program.

Report Expected On Road Survey

BOISE, Jan. 25 (AP)—A report is expected in a day or two from the joint Idaho legislative committee which studied administration of the Oregon highway system earlier this week.

The special committee returned yesterday from Salem and a committee spokesman said a report is being drafted.

AFL Backs "Ike"

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 25 (AP)—The American Federation of Labor has pledged its support "for the cause of peace."

The AFL's executive council, holding its annual midwinter meeting here, cabled its pledge to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in Paris yesterday.

Hailey Man Dies Of Heart Attack

HAILEY, Jan. 25 — Thaddeus (Tad) Sonnleitner, about 50, died here at 6 p.m. Wednesday following a heart attack. He had been a patient at the Hailey Clinical hospital until Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Sonnleitner was born Sept. 24, 1896, in Hailey, the son of a pioneer family. He was employed as a car salesman and was working out of Gooding. He was a veteran of World war I.

Survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Marie Magner and Mrs. Jannette Evanilla, both Alhambra, Calif., and one brother, Carl Sonnleitner, Nampa.

Funeral service will be announced by the McGoldrick mortuary, pending word from relatives.

Frost Blamed For Series of Auto Crashes

liam Nezbry, 504 Jackson street, and a 1946 Nash sedan driven by Herbert E. Thieme, route 2, Filer, in a collision at 8:10 a. m. at the corner of Harrison street and Addison avenue.

Damaged were the right rear fender and wheel of the Chevrolet and the Nash's bumper, hood and right rear fender.

Police also investigated a parking collision in the 200 block of Main avenue south at 11:15 a. m. According to officers, Wanda Baker, Middleton, was backing a 1935 Terraplane sedan owned by her father, J. S. Whittaker, 319 Van Buren street, from the curb and struck a 1938 Pontiac sedan being driven into an adjoining parking space by Harvey E. Austin, route 1, Kimberly. The right fenders of the Pontiac were damaged.

Livestock Prices Dip as Curbs Are Anticipated Here

Anticipation of price controls brought a 50-cent dip in prices for all classes of livestock at the Twin Falls Livestock Commission company sale Wednesday, according to company officials. They reported buyers were taking only enough to fill immediate needs, expecting price ceilings to be put on livestock any day.

A large number of fed steers and heifers were included among the 809 head of cattle sold Wednesday.

The good fed steers brought from $31 to $32.75, medium steers $29 to $31, common $27 to $29, good fed heifers $30 to $32.25, medium $28 to $30 and common $26 to $28.

Fat cows sold from $24.50 to $26.50, cutters $20 to $23, canners $16.50 to $19, bulls $26 to $29.25, veal $28 to $34, good feeder steers $31 to $33.50, heavy steer calves up to $37, stock cows $21 to $24 with some selling by the head from $210 to $225.

The top price on fat hogs was $21.75. Lambs brought up to $33.50 per 100 pounds.

Mrs. Mary Wilde, Carey, Succumbs

CAREY, Jan. 25—Mrs. Mary May Welsh Wilde, 72, long-time resident of Carey, died at 3 a. m. Wednesday. She had a stroke Monday night.

Born May 27, 1878, in Coalville, Utah, Mrs. Wilde received schooling there and was graduated from the Coalville academy. She was married to Benjamin Charles Wilde Oct. 13, 1910, in the Salt Lake temple and moved to Carey shortly afterwards.

She participated in LDS work throughout her life and was especially active in the Carey Relief society, primary and Sunday school activities.

In addition to her husband she is survived by two sons, Hugh B. Wilde, Ogden, Utah, and Jean W. Wilde, Emmett; one daughter, Mrs. Rhea Murdock, Blackfoot; three brothers, Samuel Welsh, Salt Lake City; Charles Welsh, Keetley, Utah, and David H. Welsh, Peoa, Utah; one sister, Mrs. Agnest Brinton, Peoa; and nine grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at the Carey LDS chapel with Bishop W. Cloyd Mecham officiating. Interment will be made in Carey under the direction of the Marvel mortuary.

Doctor Selected For AEC Duties

IDAHO FALLS, Jan. 25—Appointment of Dr. C. Dean Packer, Blackfoot, to the division of medical services was announced today by the Idaho operations office, U. S. atomic energy commission.

Dr. Packer replaces Dr. Harley C. Greaves, jr., also Blackfoot, who has been called to military service.

Dr. Packer's appointment is effective immediately. It will be on a part-time basis, permitting him to continue his present private practice.

Stunned

PUEBLO, Colo., Jan. 25 (AP)—John O. Hall resigned as city manager when the city council boosted his salary to $15,000 a year, and then agreed to remain on one condition—that his salary be left at $12,000.

Hall was offered a similar job at Niagara Falls, N. Y., at $16,000 a year, and resigned the Pueblo job. The council offered a $3,000 a year boost and Hall stuck to his resignation. Then he agreed to remain, but only at his present salary.

Hall didn't disclose his reasons to the amazed councilmen.

Bureau Director Stresses Need of Phosphate Work

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (U.P.)—Roscoe E. Bell, associate director of the bureau of land management, says a vital need for a concentrated phosphate fertilizer industry exists in the west.

In an address prepared for the Farmers' Union conference here, he said Idaho, Montana, Wyoming and Utah have big deposits of phosphate rock. But he said these supplies have not been developed and western farmers have to rely on phosphate fertilizers shipped from Florida and Tennessee.

As a result, Bell said, western farmers pay especially heavy prices for their fertilizer because they have to stand transportation and extra handling costs.

"Since all of the phosphate fertilizer must move great distances," he said, "it is extremely important that concentrated fertilizer be produced in your areas."

Openings Listed By Civil Service

Openings for dietetic interns and examiners have been announced by the civil service commission.

A 12-month training course at $1,470 yearly salary is received by dietetic interns. Qualifications include a bachelor's degree from an accredited college with study courses including chemistry, biology and education. Plans for New High School Discussed By Architects at Rotary Club's Meet

Plans for the new Twin Falls high school were discussed for Twin Falls Rotary club members Wednesday at their luncheon meeting in the American Legion hall. Speakers were Holmes G. Lash and Eugene Breinholt, architects, and A. W. Morgan, school superintendent.

A model of the new building was displayed along with floor and plot plans. The speakers pointed out that the building is designed for 1,260 students and will be built for an estimated $1,250,000.

The new project was compared with the new Idaho Falls school which will house 1,200 students and cost $1,750,000. The extra $500,000 at Idaho Falls will be used for construction of an auditorium and music department.

The three speakers told how they started 15 months ago to visit schools throughout the Pacific northwest to get ideas for the new building. Three months of intensive local work brought about the design of a really modern school building with an entirely new formula for classroom design.

The architects pointed out that the building will be very flexible. Partitions can be installed or removed anywhere in the building at eight-foot intervals without affecting basic structure. Various departments will be in individual wings of the building, all connected but still isolated.

About 70 per cent of the walls are glass and all rooms and halls will be lighted with natural light. Breinholt pointed out that the only need for any artificial lights is to provide light for night meetings.

The building will have three acres of floor space without the auditorium for which funds are not available at present. The gymnasium will be used as the auditorium although it will be built primarily for gymnasium purposes. Any stage installed in the gymnasium will be portable. The gymnasium will seat 3,400 persons with a stage or 4,200 without the stage.

Ralph Pink was chairman of the Rotary program.

The Rotary board of directors voted to cooperate with the Lions club in the Red Cross campaign and Thurman Bradley was appointed chairman of the Rotary club part of the campaign.

Missing

KING HILL, Jan. 25—Mr. and Mrs. Dee Heath have been notified that their son, Pfc. Eldon Heath, is missing in action in the fighting in Korea. Private Heath has been in the army for two years and has been in Korea for several months.

Bigger Smut Loss Forecast in North

MOSCOW, Jan. 25 (AP)—The 80.6 per cent loss incurred through smut infestations by Idaho wheat farmers in northern counties last year may be exceeded in 1951.

The University of Idaho's plant pathologist, J. M. Raeder, said dry weather and soil conditions contribute to heavy infestations.

He added that the mild winter "may build us into the heaviest smut year on record in spite of the fact that 1950 was far higher than we can possibly afford."

Cost to farmers through the infestation in Idaho, Washington and Oregon last year was nearly $14,000,000. The cost of fighting smut added to production expenses.

Hazards

Especially cautious driving on Shoshone street might be in order, according to two entries on the police blotter.

Wednesday evening, one man reported another for reckless driving on Shoshone street north with the suggestion police send him a warning card.

A few hours later, another man reported two sheep were on the Shoshone street bridge over Rock creek.

Dulles in Tokyo

TOKYO, Jan. 25 (U.P.)—State Department Adviser John Foster Dulles arrived at Tokyo's Haneda airport today to begin work on a Japanese peace treaty which should go into effect within six months.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur was waiting at the airport to greet Dulles when his plane set down at 8:25 p.m. (4:25 a.m. MST).

Second Ship Fire Listed Controlled

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Jan. 25 (AP)—For the second time, a fire was controlled today in the engine room of the motor ship Laurits Swenson.

The vessel radioed an SOS last night, reporting the blaze and asking immediate assistance, but later said the flames were controlled. However, they flared up again. There was no indication of any casualties.

The latest coast guard report said the fire was extinguished and that the ship would attempt to return here under her own power as soon as the engine room was cleared of fire-fighting equipment and smoke.

Mannerheim Ailing

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, Jan. 25 (U.P.)—Finnish Field Marshal Carl Gustav Mannerheim, 84, was in serious condition today following an operation.

Mannerheim, who has been ill for several years, was brought here yesterday from a clinic near Montreaux.

Officials Join Forces to Cut Fire Hazards

particularly in the basements of business establishments. Among the more shocking are these:

A business district cafe in which the floor near the range is so soaked with grease that there is a deposit of range grease underneath the floor—a huge glob about 18 inches deep and about 18 inches in diameter.

A beer hall in the center of town with shredded paper used for insulation in a jacket around a water heater. No match is needed—an open electric switch provides the possibility of arcing, just as effective as a match in setting paper on fire.

A stoker in a Main avenue building, not wired in pipe or conduit as required by city law.

A second story set of offices, with inconvenient access to an alley; occupants placing wastepaper in cardboard containers in the hall; the containers frequently overflowing and blocking the hall with combustible material. City ordinance requires all trash to be taken outside before the building is closed at night.

A business district apparel store, all in fine shape except the stoker room where a dangerous electrical connection was found, apparently the result of a quick repair job.

A furnace flue too hot to touch, going through a wooden coalroom wall.

Those are the more shocking hazards, but in nearly every building inspected, these more common hazards have been found: Drop cords attached to electrical installations, draped over water pipes, nailed to wood, going uninsulated through floors or walls, and even more dangerous, hot ashes and clinkers in combustible containers close to wood.

Smock points out it does little good to inspect and approve an electrical installation if the owner or occupant later taps into it with makeshift wiring or overloads the circuit far beyond what it was designed to carry.

All public buildings are required to be wired in pipe or conduit, Smock explains, and it is unlawful for any person to make any electrical installation in any building without first securing a permit from the city. All installations must meet with the approval of the electrical inspector.

Although the present planned inspection is confined to the business district, the city will welcome requests from householders for inspection of suspected hazards. City Manager Smith points out the purpose of the city's public safety department is to protect life and property—including prevention of hazards.

Following the inspections, reports of findings are made to the city administration. Notices are sent to persons owning or occupying property where the hazard is found, explaining the hazard and what is necessary to correct it. The reports and notices are confined only to definitely existing hazards which could cause loss of life or property.

Under the fire ordinance, the penalty for non-compliance goes up to $100. Penalties also are provided in the electrical code. Specified times are provided for corrective action. But city officials are thinking less of penalties than of the excellent compliance received so far to the inspection notices.

Fire Chief Bartlett is particularly worried about the disposal of ashes and clinkers, in both the business and residential districts. The ordinance requires them to be placed in metal containers, not spread over combustibles, or put in cardboard boxes or fruit baskets.

If stored inside the containers must be at least two inches from woodwork, if kept outside they must be not less than 10 feet from any wooden structure.

Illustrating this danger, the fire chief cited an instance in recent weeks when the department was called at 2:30 a.m. to check a residential furnace explosion. Fire Inspector Higgins accompanied the other firemen and spotted smoke curling around the eaves of a nearby garage.

Tracing it to its source, Higgins found a basket of clinker-like hot carbon cleaned from an oil furnace, set in leaves next to the garage. He lifted the basket but its bottom fell out and the rush of air fanned the embers into flame. It was between two baskets of papers. Higgins extinguished the fire before it caused any damage, thus preventing a second alarm that night.

"The town's full of fire hazards," says Higgins, blaming most of them on poor housekeeping. He's worried over trash-clogged basements, alleys and stairways in the business district and attics in the residential district. City ordinance prohibits storage of combustible materials in furnace rooms or under stairways.

And Chief Bartlett is worried over business district basements so cut-up by partitions and so clogged with combustible materials that firemen would find it almost impossible to fight a blaze. He says a coming trend in construction is to have floor ports through which firemen could place nozzles to reach inaccessible likely hazards in fuel and furnace rooms.

Higgins is less concerned over outside hazards, bad as they are, than the interior hazards. If fire breaks out in trash outside a building, it is more easily discovered and extinguished. His worry, and that of all firemen, is the hazard deep inside a business building—one not visible and hard to reach. The worry increases when there are living quarters on the second floor.

Oily rags also worry the inspectors. City ordinance requires oily rags and dustmops to be stored in metal containers with tight fitting covers. Spontaneous combustion of coal is less of a worry that it used to be, but still is a hazard.

Many minor fires could have become disastrous, could have caused extensive property damage and the loss of lives in some cases had it not been for the fire department's prompt response and efficient action, city officials point out.

They also point out that in the past 25 years, Twin Falls has been exceptionally fortunate in having a low property loss from fire and particularly in having a low rate of lives lost.

Swan and Bartlett state this record could be improved by closer co-operation of the citizens with the fire and inspection departments, in immediate compliance with recommendations for eliminating fire hazards when notified by authorized inspectors.

The city is cooperating in placing Higgins on fulltime fire inspection and prevention duties. Before the recent revision of the city job titles and pay scale, he was on part-time duty with other firemen and the fire chief.

Further municipal progress has been made in the coordination of the work of the electrical and fire inspectors in scheduled, systematic inspections. With citizen cooperation keeping pace, city officials hope to attain their goal of making Twin Falls safer for everybody.

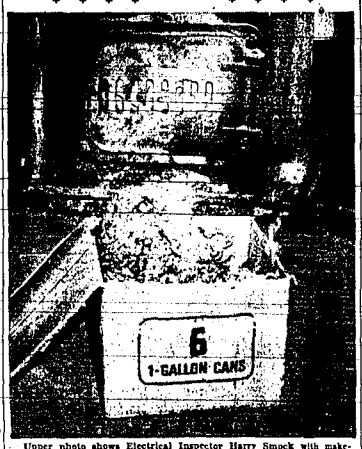

Dangerous

Fire Chief L. Z. Bartlett and Building Inspector Stuart Swan list these as the most prevalent and most dangerous fire hazards their inspectors have found in buildings here:

1. Open wiring, drop cords draped over water pipes, overloaded circuits.
2. Improper construction of furnace rooms and bins used for fuel storage.
3. Placing or storing combustible material close to furnaces or stoves, placing hot clinkers and ashes with combustible material instead of in metal containers as required.
4. Faulty and improperly built flues.

More Hazards

Mountain Moved to Build Dam

Crushed-up mountain shown on the move at left becomes a man-made mountain at the new dam across White river.

Seven-mile belt conveyor winds through the Ozarks to carry 4,000,000 tons of Lee mountain across two valleys to the site of the Bull Shoals dam.

* * * * * * * *

Seven Men Moving Mountain To Make Fifth Largest Dam

BULL SHOALS, Ark. (NEA)—Seven men in the Ozark mountains of Arkansas are finishing a gargantuan two-year job moving a 4,000,000-ton mountain across two valleys.

Seven miles away, the mountain is being put together again to build the $78,000,000 hydro-electric and flood control Bull Shoals dam on the White river, fifth largest in the world.

The mountain-moving project was performed on a seven-mile-long belt conveyer, longest in the world at the present time, which carries 650 tons of crushed rock an hour and carries it along at 525 feet a minute.

The big man behind them, however, is M. H. "Harvey" Slocum, project manager for the dam. A pioneer in the moving of mountains, he displaced two others to construct the Grand Coulee and Friant dams. Rather than build a temporary railroad, an aerial tramway, or build a highway, he went to Thomas Robins, jr., conveyor manufacturer, and had the "belt road" put together in the Ozarks.

The rock blasted from the top and sides of Lee's mountain rides the belt across rugged terrain to a processing yard on the dam site. There it gets another unique treatment—refrigeration.

The army engineers specify the rock must be cooled to 54 degrees before it is mixed with cement, and Slocum built huge vats which hold the rock while the water circulates through it.

"The mountain is coming to Mohammed on a roller coaster," observed a grizzled construction worker, who has helped build other big dams.

The seven men are the maintenance men on each of the shifts who keep the belt running, traveling along the conveyor line to lubricate the "idlers," or rollers, on which the belt runs.

The project, which will provide flood control for 1,000,000 acres of land and supply power to Tulsa, Okla., Springfield, Mo., and Little Rock, Ark., set a construction record for speed.

The damsite was cleared in June, 1947; first concrete was poured in September, 1948, and the completed project will be turned over to the army engineers next fall.

Actually, however, it has been 40 years in the making. A bill approving a dam 10 miles below Bull Shoals was vetoed by the President in 1910. In 1919 a similar bill was approved, but the contractors went broke.

Talk on Polio Is Heard by Burley Group

BURLEY, Jan. 25—Dr. Charles Terhune gave a history of polio and its treatment at Burley Soroptimist club meeting Wednesday noon at the Elks club.

In this part of the country, Dr. Terhune said, the polio cycle begins in June and July. The peak is reached in September, he said. The disease is more prevalent in the northern part of United States and is unknown in tropical countries, he added.

Many cases of polio never are diagnosed as polio because paralysis doesn't set in, he said. The disease attacks children between 5 and 10 years of age in greatest numbers. Few infants have it. Polio treatment centers for Idaho are located at Idaho Falls, Pocatello, Boise and Lewiston. Cassia county patients are sent to Boise, he added.

"Idaho never has collected enough money to pay for her own cases," Dr. Terhune said.

Mrs. Carol Thornton, county health nurse, said Cassia county had two cases of polio last year. In 1947, she continued, Cassia and Minidoka counties had 42 cases. Some of these patients still are receiving treatment. Polio donations are divided equally between the county and the national organization, she said. Mrs. Thornton urged that Cassia county build up a reserve fund during the light years of polio.

Jaqueline Byrd, program chairman, reviewed an article on polio from the Soroptimist magazine. The club voted a donation to the polio fund.

Mrs. Jeannette Chamberlain reported that the club members collected $344 for the "Floyd Fox Fund." Ellen Mae Oberholzer presided at the meeting.

Shearing School Planned for City

MOSCOW, Jan. 25 (UP)—A two-day shearing school here March 19-20 will lead off the first in a series of such courses sponsored by the University of Idaho and the Idaho Wool Growers' association.

Other schools will be held at Caldwell, March 21-22; and at Twin Falls, March 23-24.

Initiated

RICHFIELD, Jan. 25 — Richfield FFA officers initiated 10 members of their high school vocational agriculture class at ceremonies Monday evening and Tuesday morning at the school. Students receiving the first-degree and bronze pin are Curtis McKee, Charles Moates, Jack Horting, Conrad Morley, Harry Grimsley, Earl Hubsmith, Wendell Johnson, Gene Prior, Gary Hubsmith and Ernest Walker.

RETURN FROM TRIP

ACEQUIA, Jan. 25—Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Auten have returned from a business trip to Idaho Falls.

Economy Opposed By PTA at Albion

ALBION, Jan. 25—At a recent meeting of the Elba, Almo and Albion PTA a resolution was passed opposing Gov. Len Jordan's recommendations concerning the closing of SICE and NICE and the proposed legislation to cut school equalization and teacher retirement program funds.

A letter was directed sent to Governor Jordan.

Charley Clay, Albion fire chief, spoke to the group on "Fire prevention in the home and the school." A film was shown by Dana H. Verry.

Autos Damaged in City Collision

Drivers of these two autos told police they were not aware of the other car until the crash occurred at the intersection of Third avenue and Third street west. Paul E. Boyd, 21, Twin Falls, was driving the car at left which made a half circle and jumped the curb. The older model car at right was driven by Troy L. Colyer, 28, Buhl. Both drivers and a passenger in Colyer's auto, George Rojan, Buhl, received minor injuries. None required treatment at the hospital. (Staff photo-engraving)

Three People Hurt Here in Car Accident

Neither driver saw the other approaching prior to a collision at the intersection of Third avenue and Third street west which resulted in minor injuries to three people and considerable damage to one of the two cars. The accident occurred at 10:15 p. m. Wednesday.

Troy L. Colyer, 28, Buhl, was driving a 1937 coupe northwest on Third avenue when a later model car driven by Paul E. Boyd, 21, Twin Falls, crashed into the side of the Colyer car. The Boyd auto was going northeast on Third avenue west.

Both drivers told police they did not see the other car approaching. The wet, muddy pavement showed neither had applied brakes and a building on the corner partially obstructed their view.

Colyer received a cut over his left eye from broken glasses. A passenger in his car, George Rogan, Buhl, had a small cut on his left hand and another cut on his right leg. Boyd received a bloody nose. None of the men required hospitalization.

It was estimated the cost of repairing damage to the left side of the Colyer car would be near the value of the automobile. The front of the car driven by Boyd was damaged.

Bond Election in Elmore Contested

GLENNS FERRY, Jan. 25—District Judge C. E. Winstead, Boise, has the suit of Jack Hanley, Rye Grass area rancher who is contesting a recent Elmore county bond election, under advisement.

Hanley is contesting the election in which a bond issue of $60,000 was approved by six votes to finance the construction of a county hospital. Judge Winstead heard arguments in the case at Mountain Home recently.

The election was held on June 6, 1950. Of the 935 votes cast, 629 votes were in favor of the bond issue and 306 were against it. Hanley claims that 18 of the votes cast in the election were illegal in that the voters were not on the 1949 assessment rolls.

Car Dealer Held In Rockne Case; Story Is Revised

WICHITA, Kans., Jan. 25 (U.P.)—Prominent auto dealer Joe Novacek was jailed early today for shooting William D. Rockne, son of the late Notre Dame football coach, Knute Rockne.

Sheriff Ty Lockett said Novacek would be charged with felonious assault Monday.

Novacek, 33, was seized after Rockne told Lockett the used car dealer shot him three times as he lay on the ground near Novacek's house Saturday night.

Rockne was reported out of danger from "very critical" bullet wounds in his liver, heart and lung.

County Attorney Tom Seed said Novacek has changed his story "considerably" under questioning, and his account of the shooting did not match certain physical evidence.

Second Accident Rights Upset Car

NEWBURYPORT, Mass., Jan. 25 (U.P.)—The truck that struck Mrs. Edna Finnegan's car didn't knock it over—it righted it.

The 37-year-old Newburyport woman's car had tipped over on icy Newburyport turnpike last night.

A moment later, a truck operated by Louis Pelletier came along, swerved to avoid another truck and struck Mrs. Finnegan's car. The impact brought the car back on its wheels.

Mrs. Finnegan was taken to Anna Jaques hospital with head and leg injuries.

Theaters in Ohio Block Korea Film

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 25 (U.P.)—Ohio independent theater owners were asked today to hold up showing a film endorsed by President Truman that purports to show why United Nations forces are fighting in Korea.

The secretary of their trade organization — Independent Theater Owners of Ohio—said "millions of people" disagree with the administration's Korean policy and should not be "forced" to sit through the film, "Why Korea?"

Incorporation For Grange Is Finished Here

The Twin Falls Grange met Wednesday evening with Kenneth Poe, master, in charge of the meeting. Incorporation proceedings for the Grange were completed and the group will be known as Twin Falls Grange No. 216, Inc.

A. W. Morgan, Twin Falls superintendent of schools, discussed the educational finance program for Idaho schools.

It was announced that the Grange will hold a cooked food sale Saturday at the C. C. Anderson store. The sale will start at 10 a.m. and all members were urged to donate home-cooked food.

It also was announced that Grange women will serve a noon dinner at the IOOF hall Feb. 6 for the federal land bank meeting here. Women who have not been solicited for the dinner were urged to contact Mrs. Henry Rees, home economics chairman.

New Grange yearbooks were given to each family at the meeting.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Noah Oliver and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Poe.

The next meeting of the Grange will be held at 8 p.m. Feb. 14 in Mrs. May Janks' hall. All active members were asked to bring an inactive member to the meeting which will feature a potluck dinner.

More Spuds May Be Sold for Feed

Potatoes for livestock feed may be available from time to time for purchase by feeders until April 30, 1951, Walter Reese, chairman of the Twin Falls county production marketing administration, announced Thursday.

Reese said all sales will be subject to government regulations for the sale of fresh Irish potatoes by the government for livestock feed. The sale price is 10 cents per hundred pounds bulk or 24 cents per hundred pounds sacked.

Interested stockfeeders may get complete information from the county PMA office, 119 Third street east, Twin Falls.

Telephone Fails Paralyzed Man As Fire Strikes

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Jan. 25 (U.P.)—A five-foot length of telephone wire kept Chester Fazdiarko in touch with the outside world since he was paralyzed in a mining accident 14 years ago.

Yesterday he awoke to find the mattress of his bed ablaze. He needed help, quick.

Instinctively the 51-year-old Fazdiarko reached for the telephone. He was desperate. Maybe he pulled too hard on the cord in trying to reach a sitting position, as he had done many times before. Maybe it was more of a yank than a pull.

The cord pulled loose from its connection and the telephone went dead.

A milkman, Joseph Solomon, found Fazdiarko seated on the edge of his bed in his one-room house at nearby Exeter. His right hand still grasped the instrument's receiver. He had died of asphyxiation.

Episcopal Bishop Post Is Accepted

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 25 (U.P.)—The new Episcopal bishop of Utah will be the Very Rev. Richard Simpson Walton, former dean and rector of St. Mark's cathedral at Seattle, Wash.

The Rev. Mr. Walton—elected at a meeting of the Episcopal house of bishops at El Paso, Tex., Jan. 12—has announced his acceptance of the position. He will succeed the late Rt. Rev. Stephen C. Clark.

Ceremonies of consecration for the new bishop will be held in Salt Lake City about May 1 with some 10 to 15 bishops in attendance.

Contractors Will Hear NPA Chief

BOISE, Jan. 25 (U.P.)—James Hawley, jr., Boise, manager of the national production authority's Idaho office, will be one of two featured speakers at the Associated General Contractors' annual meeting here tonight.

T. R. Roach, Idaho Power company president, also will speak.

Grain

CHICAGO, Jan. 25 (AP)—A late rally in wheat and oats left grains with a mixed appearance at the close on the board of trade today.

Wheat advanced in the closing minutes following news of a large allocation to Greece to buy American wheat. The March oats contract had a very sharp run-up on hasty short covering which found the market bare of offerings.

Other commodities ended lower.

Wheat closed ⅛ lower to ½ higher, March 2.44⅝-¾; corn was ⅛-⅜ lower, March 1.76⅝; oats were ⅜ to 3⅛ higher, March .99⅛-.99; rye was unchanged to ⅛ lower, May 1.78⅞-¾; soybeans were 1 to 2½ lower, March 3.19¾-3.20; and lard was 32 to 45 cents per 100 lbs. lower, March 18.22.

Argentina Drafts Railroad Strikers

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Jan. 25 (UP)—The Argentine ministry of defense announced today that all striking railroad workers would be drafted immediately and placed under army control.

The rail workers have been on strike throughout the nation for three days. The government has declared the strike illegal and President Juan D. Peron has ordered criminal prosecution of the strike leaders.

About 1,000 men are believed involved on Argentina's six main rail lines. Engineers, conductors, grade crossing and yard workers walked out to support demands for higher wages and union security.

Stockmen Aren't Beefing

As this newschart shows, stockmen now are getting over 100 per cent of parity—the so-called fair price for beef, lambs and veal. Under price-control law, government can only fix prices of farm products on which farmers are getting 100 per cent of parity or more. Hence it's being argued in some quarters that it would be wise—for consumer's standpoint—for the U. S. to place what meats it can under price-control law. Despite ominous signs, however, Price Administrator DiSalle says meat ceilings are not imminent.

Charter Given

IDAHO FALLS, Jan. 25 (UP) — The Idaho Falls 40 et 8 voiture of the American Legion became the latest addition to Idaho's list of fun and service groups today.

A charter was presented to the group by G. A. Foulke, grand chef de gare for Idaho.

The ski lift in a snow sports area near Santa Fe, N. M., ends at an altitude of 11,000 feet where snows remain until May and sometimes later.

TRANSFERRED

HOLLISTER, Jan. 25—Pvt. Clarence C. Courtney, son of Mrs. Genevieve Courtney, Hollister, who entered the service last Dec. 8, has been transferred from Lackland air force base in Texas to Lowry air force base at Denver.

Freight Charges Revisions Urged

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—Two interstate commerce commission examiners have recommended revision of minimum charges on both railroad and motor carrier freight services, designed to boost revenues for both types of transportation.

Under the new weight and mileage scales proposed, some rates on small shipments would go down, others would go up, with an overall increase resulting on shipments of 300 pounds or less.

The recommendations resulted from an inquiry started by ICC four years ago into the so-called small shipment end of the freight business. The general finding was that due to high costs of handling small shipments, especially for short distances, higher rates were indicated.

Support Pledged

IDAHO FALLS, Jan. 25 (UP) — Support of the newly-organized Idaho Federation of Teachers was promised today by Elmer F. McIntire, secretary of the State Labor federation.

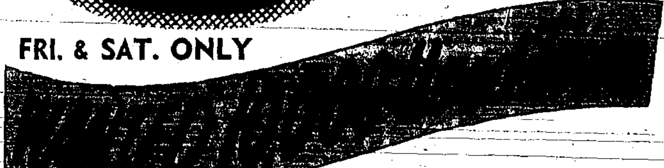

The union educators also received the support of the Idaho Falls Central Labor union.

Council Officers Chosen at Burley Camp Fire Meet

BURLEY, Jan. 25—Bryan Cazier was reelected president of Cassia County council of Camp Fire Girls at the annual meeting held at Southwest school. Kales Lowe was retained as vice president.

Mrs. Floyd Obermiller was reelected secretary and William Rehn was reelected treasurer. Named to the board of directors were Bill McDonald, Glenn Simmons, Mrs. James Roper, Frank Burke, John Chisholm and Mary Browning.

Holdover board members are Mrs. Kales Lowe, Mrs. Les Morgan, Mrs. Kenneth Henderson, Mrs. Hermon King, Don Chisholm, Bryan Cazier, William Rehn, Kales Lowe and Mrs. Obermiller. Mrs. Henderson was reelected regional representative.

Glenn Simmons reported on the Camp Fire Girls camp held at the Pocatello camp last year for two weeks. A large number of local girls attended. Prospects for a 1951 camp are good, he said.

William Rehn reported civic groups contributed $149 to the Camp Fire Girls council last year when it was first organized to help finance initial costs. At present there is a balance of $235 in the treasury.

Girls from Mrs. William Morgan's Tawanka Camp Fire group presented the flags, demonstrated a ceremonial and sang a song. Mrs. Fern Estes presented her Blue Bird girls in demonstration work, and the Okihi girls showed gifts made at Christmas time for their mothers.

Mrs. Perry Stephenson, president of the Guardians' association, gave her annual report showing a total of 63 girls in Camp Fire work and 32 in Blue Bird. The majority of these girls have joined since the council was formed.

During the past year, the girls have helped in many patriotic and civic projects. There were two grand council fires and another is planned for the birthday week in March.

Mrs. Henderson announced the regional meeting to be held in Spokane on April 12 and 13.

The Rev. James Crowe, Rupert Methodist church, spoke on Camp Fire as a training school for citizenship, character and leadership. Through Camp Fire work, girls become better homemakers, the Rev. Mr. Crowe said. "Camp Fire has a dynamic program which teaches girls how to live with a purpose," he concluded.

Following the meeting, the social committee, with Mrs. Hermon King, chairman, served refreshments in the school lunch room.

Ralph Hart Weds North Idaho Girl In Church Rites

FILER, Jan. 25—Standing before a background of flowers and lighted tapers, Phyllis Mumau and Ralph Hart exchanged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony on Dec. 31 at the Tensed community church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Mumau, Tensed, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hart, Filer.

The wedding service was read by the Rev. Eugene Stewart, Priest River, a cousin of the bride.

For her wedding, she chose a white satin gown fashioned with a train. The long sleeved dress was made with a sweetheart neckline. Her fingertip veil was trimmed with lace. She carried a lavender orchid on a white Bible.

Nadine Ashley was maid of honor. Her gown was pale blue. Bridesmaids, Dorrith Kammerzell and Carol Atkinson, wore light pink evening dresses.

Sherlyn Feucht, wearing a long blue gown, carried a basket of flowers.

John Weihmann, Lewiston, University of Idaho classmate of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Larry Feucht and Thomas Agte.

Betie Lou Agrell was soloist. Wedding music was played by Mrs. Harvey Kammerzell.

A reception was held for 200 wedding guests at the Tensed Grange hall. Another reception was held for the new Mr. and Mrs. Hart at the Northview Grange hall following their wedding trip to Sun Valley.

The newlyweds will live in Moscow where Hart is a senior at the University of Idaho. He is majoring in dairy husbandry. Hart was graduated from Filer high school.

Mrs. Hart attended Tensed schools and was graduated from Plummer high school and a dental nurse's training school in San Francisco. She is employed in Moscow.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hart, Filer; Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Cappe and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ounley, all Buhl, and Mrs. Gertrude Bonde and son, Caldwell.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

Children, like all young creatures, are full of fun. They love a bit of nonsense and though their mothers and teachers have long outgrown any feeling of need in that direction, having had their fill of the world's nonsense, they should make an effort to accept the children's need for it and go along with them now and then.

The teacher who can laugh with her class at a bit of nonsense has a surer, stronger and healthier hold on her class than one who is afraid to crack her face, lest the children get out of hand. In that sort of atmosphere the children will get out of hand as soon as the teacher leaves the room for a moment. Having been starved for nonsense, they grab hold at the first chance.

"We had such fun this morning. So much fun we got into trouble. I won't get home early today. We all have to stay in. Miss Maria had to go to the office and did we make noise! The kids danced on the desks, threw things and yelled."

"My goodness. I hope you didn't."

"I did my share. I'll bet they heard me yell 'Yippee' clear to the top of the building," and his smile was one of reminiscent glee.

That would not happen in Miss Cherrie's class because she leaves a little margin for nonsense occasionally. She lets the children tell a funny story and laughs with them about it. She tells them one when the occasion allows. She picks one that allows the nonsense to show clearly, be laughed at, filed away as experience.

A class party, organized by the children, managed by them, can be a great treat. Children will get their work out of the way in short order if they know that by doing so they save some time for fun. The discussion of the plans, the assignment of leaders, is wonderfully effective discipline. Real discipline is experience that modifies action in beneficial ways. A child who helps make a plan and who does his full share toward making it work is getting a discipline far more valuable than any imposed one can ever be.

When the teacher or mother accepts her assignment, allows the children to carry on with a bit of background help, who wears her paper hat with an air, laughing at herself with the children, is doing far more toward leading them to a healthy maturity than appears on the surface.

Did you know that rhythm helps children learn their number tables? Dr. Patri explains how playing with numbers helps a child learn to add, subtract and divide in leaflet P-5. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to him, c/o Times-News, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Annual Rally Is Held in Jerome By Church Unit

JEROME, Jan. 25—The 12th annual rally of the Holy Name society of St. Jerome's Catholic church was held Sunday night at the Jerome Grange hall. Dinner was served by the Catholic Women's league.

Mrs. W. B. Churchman was chairman of the dinner and members of the league acted as waitresses. The program was in charge of John W. Hosman, chairman; Charles H. Welteroth and Emmett E. Connor. Hosman, master of ceremonies, started the program with a community sing led by Winfield S. Kircher, music director, with Mrs. E. E. Connor at the piano.

Introduction of guests by members followed. Two violin solos were played by Anita Wilcomb, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Carroll Wilcomb. A comedy musical skit was presented by Harold F. Klaas and Carroll F. Wilcomb. Two piano selections were played by Ann Darlene Hof, who also accompanied Carole Hosan, who sang two Irish songs. James Cunningham, Gooding, lawyer and court reporter, addressed the gathering on "Public Relations Between Catholics and Non-Catholics."

During the business meeting conducted by Harold F. Klaas, president, the 1951 officers of the society were elected. They are Ralph Dunn, president; Edwin C. Nutsch, vice president, and Frank A. Titus, secretary-treasurer.

Members received holy communion in a body at 9:30 a.m. Sunday mass, which was followed by the ritual of admission for two candidates, Richard Scheer and Dr. F. J. Supple. The society voted to donate a stained glass window for the new church with the figure of St. Jerome and dedicated to the memory of the first bishop of Idaho, Alphonse J. Glorieux.

The next meeting will be held at the parish house Feb. 8.

Sportsmen Told Area's Big Game Take Hits Record

More big game animals were taken out of the fourth district in 1950 than in any other year on record, P. J. McDermott, Boise, State big game supervisor, told members of the Southern Idaho Fish and Game association at their annual meeting here Wednesday night.

More than 100 sportsmen turned out for the event and heard reports by T. B. Murray, Boise, director of the fish and game department; James Simpson, Boise, fish culturist; Charles Blake, Jerome, upland bird biologist, and Robert Salter, district waterfowl biologist for the fish and wildlife service.

Other talks were given by Paul Thoman, Twin Falls, fourth district fish and game commissioner and currently chairman of the state commission, and Dr. George Scholer, Twin Falls, president of the Fourth District Associated Sportsman's clubs.

McDermott said the prospects are good for another good year for big game hunting in 1951. He said in round numbers hunters took 8,000 deer, 1,000 elk and 550 antelope out of the fourth district in 1950.

The fourth district includes Magic Valley counties and Lemhi, Butte and Custer counties.

McDermott said the deer herd in the Cassia division of the Minidoka forest is healthy and should stand another large hunt in 1951. The state issued 5,000 permits for the herd in two special hunts last fall.

Murray reported the current session of the legislature understands the problems of the fish and game department and has shown a "friendly attitude toward the desires of the sportsmen."

The director explained the department expects to receive an adequate appropriation for the next two years to continue improvements being made at fish hatcheries throughout the state and carry on routine work.

Murray said Idaho has entered into a three-state agreement with Utah and Nevada to study the migration habits of the Minidoka deer herd. He said a good percentage of the herd winters in Utah and Nevada and summers in Idaho.

Association Secretary Lud Drexler reported that through the Twin Falls hatchery, leased to the state by the local club, 61,200 eastern brook and 421,940 rainbow trout were planted in the immediate area last year. He said the local hatchery now contains 800,000 trout for next season.

Simpson reviewed progress made in fishing in this area and said the state plans to continue a restocking program for blueback fish in Salmon reservoir. He also pointed out that the planting of German brown trout would be continued in Snake river near Rupert and Burley and brown trout planted in Snake river below Shoshone falls.

He also said that during the past year production at fish hatcheries in the state has doubled to help meet the increasing demands for fishing in Idaho. He concluded by saying 1951 fishing regulations are essentially the same as in 1950.

Hawley Hill, Jerome, fourth district conservation supervisor, gave figures for kills in the special hunts held last fall in the Minidoka forest. He said 2447 deer were bagged for the 3,000 permits in the Cassia No. 1 hunt, 1,194 of 2,000 in Cassia No. 2, 523 of 750 in the Albion division, 467 of 650 in the Sublett division and 136 of 300 in the Black Pine division.

He said more than 200 permit holders did not show up for the Cassia No. 1 hunt and 250 permit holders failed to check into the forest for the Cassia No. 2 hunt.

Hill reported the annual game census project in the forest would start the middle of next month in cooperation with the forest service.

Blake told association members of the youth program carried on in the state last year for raising young pheasants and of the number of pheasants released in the fourth district during 1950.

Salter explained the work of the fish and wildlife service in using bands on ducks and geese to study waterfowl migration and habits. He said southern Idaho had a large duck population during the recent hunting season, but the birds did not congregate, giving the idea there were fewer birds.

Thoman thanked sportsmen for their help and cooperation during the past six years of his term as district fish and game commissioner and said he hoped he would receive continued cooperation during the next six years of his new term.

Scholer reminded sportsmen of the importance of current legislative matters concerning hunting and fishing.

A resolution was passed by the association calling for the fish and game commission to close Sunbeam dam on the Salmon river and the immediate area to salmon fishing from July 4 to Aug. 15. Members pointed out too many fish were being taken out of the quiet water near the dam by only a "select number" of fishermen. The water serves as a resting place for salmon in their trip to spawning grounds.

Four directors were elected. They are Art Daw, Hansen; Lud Drexler, Twin Falls, and Earl Davidson, Twin Falls, elected for three-year terms, and Allen Thompson, Kimberly, selected for a one-year term.

At an organization meeting of directors, Daw was named president, Mel Bruning, a holdover director, vice president; Drexler, secretary, and Davidson, treasurer.

Refreshments were served and two films on outdoor life were shown by department officers from Boise.

TIGERS SIGN PLAYERS

DETROIT, Jan. 25 (AP)—First baseman Dick Kryhoski and catcher Joe Ginsberg signed their 1951 Detroit Tiger contracts Wednesday, thus bringing to 10 the number of players already in the fold.

Brattan Scores Simple Victory

CHICAGO, Jan. 25 (AP)—Johnny Bratton, Chicago's welterweight championship aspirant, Wednesday night spilled Bobby Dykes, Miami, Fla., for a sensational one-round technical knockout in their scheduled 10-round bout in the Chicago stadium.

The fight ended at two minutes and twenty seconds.

The sharp shooting Bratton, weighing 147, floored his string bean opponent three times before Referee Johnny Behr called a halt. Dykes scaled 150.

After toying with the one-time Texan with a light flurry of punches, Bratton suddenly lashed out with a terrific right to the jaw—the first right he threw. Dykes crashed to the floor for a count of eight.

Wes Fesler Takes Position as Minnesota's Head Grid Coach

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 25 (AP)—Wes Fesler, who won gridiron fame at Ohio State, came out of a six-week retirement Wednesday to become head football coach at the University of Minnesota. Fesler has a three-year contract at the annual salary of $14,000.

To assist him in the job from which the veteran Bernie Bierman resigned during last season, Fesler is bringing Lyal Clark and Dick Fisher, Ohio State line and backfield coaches, respectively.

Fesler resigned from the Ohio State head coaching position last Dec. 9, saying his health could not stand the strain of trying to win every game. He became a real estate salesman in Columbus, O.

The appointment took Minnesota by surprise. Fesler had not figured in the speculation about Bierman's successor. Negotiations went on by telephone. He and Athletic Director Ike Armstrong came to a definite understanding Tuesday. President James L. Morrill concurred in Armstrong's nomination and Wednesday the board of regents ratified the appointment in a telephone poll.

At Minnesota, Fesler joins an old friend. President Morrill was vice president of Ohio State when Fesler was winning All-America honors as an end on Buckeye teams.

Dr. Morrill referred to his friendship in expressing profound satisfaction with the appointment. He said Fesler would bring to Minnesota "the qualities that are so essential in maintaining and furthering football."

Twin cities sports writers likewise expressed pleasure.

"I believe Wes will carry on the many fine football traditions associated with the University of Minnesota," Armstrong said in a formal statement. "He has an excellent background in the coaching profession and I feel confident that he will command the respect of all Minnesotans."

Fesler comes to a job which Bierman held for 18 seasons. Before going into the marine corps in World war II, Bierman led the Gophers to six Big 10 conference championships and four national titles. In the postwar period, Minnesota has not fared so well. The 1950 season was Bierman's worst—one victory, one tie and seven losses.

Fesler's Ohio State teams won 21 games while losing 13 and tying 3. The 1949 team shared the Big 10 title and won the Rose bowl game of Jan. 1, 1950.

Kimberly Trips Acequia 54-38

RUPERT, Jan. 25—The Kimberly Bulldogs pulled away in the second quarter here Tuesday night to defeat the Acequia Indians 54-38 in a basketball game played in the Rupert gymnasium.

Kimberly only held a 16-13 margin at the end of the first quarter, but pushed the score along to 30-21 at the half. Tate topped Kimberly with 17 points, while Wilske was high for Acequia with 14.

Kimberly's junior varsity also scored a win.

ISC Boosters to Boost Grid Game

POCATELLO, Jan. 25 (UP)—A football contest between the Sun Devils of Arizona State, Tempe, and the Idaho State college Bengals will be the major goal of the Pocatello gridiron club this year.

The club will sponsor the game between the two schools. It also plans construction of a raised platform ring for collegiate boxing.

H. B. Markham, local contractor, was named president, succeeding Postmaster Jack Trimming.

INDIANS WIN THRILLER

POCATELLO, Jan. 25 (AP)—Bill Horrocks pumped in three points in an overtime period Wednesday night to give the Pocatello Bannocks a 46-43 non-conference high school basketball win over West Side of Day[ton].

Ricks Boxers Defeat SICE's Ring Squad

REXBURG, Jan. 25—The Ricks college Vikings scored a 6-2 victory over Southern Idaho College of Education boxers here Wednesday night in matches that provided closer competition than the score indicated.

The Panthers scored wins in the 125-pound and 175-pound weight divisions but lost three technical knockouts when their fighters received cuts in the ring.

Jack "Salty" Olson, SICE veteran, started the Panthers out on the victory trail in the 125-pound bout with a clean knockout in the first round over Gordon Powell, Ricks.

But Verle Kotter, Ricks, took a decision from Cleve Morgan, SICE, in the 135-pound class to put the Vikings in the lead following a SICE forfeit in the 130-pound class.

Classy little Paul Robertson, Ricks 145-pounder, scored a TKO over Carroll Dayley and Charles Meyers, Ricks, scored a TKO over Wendell Anderson in the 155-pound class. Anderson received a cut on his nose.

Harold Orme, Ricks, captain, scored a first round TKO over Al Starns. SICE officials claimed the match should not have been stopped by the referee.

The Albion boxers won their second bout in the 175-pound division when veteran Florin Hulse decisioned Ralph Hunter.

Wayne Allison, the undefeated Ricks heavyweight, took a close decision from Clarence Hulse in the final contest.

In an exhibition heavyweight fight, Carl Blair, Ricks, won a first round TKO over Lester Stevenson, SICE.

SICE to Meet Nazarenes

ALBION, Jan. 25—The Southern Idaho College of Education basketball team will entertain Northwest Nazarene in two games here Friday and Saturday nights.

Coach Ernie Craner's hard-pressed cagers will be going after their first home wins of the season.

Motor Squad Takes Buhl's Rifle Shoot

BUHL, Jan. 25—The Eckert Motor company rifle team, paced by Jack Lewis, took high honors Tuesday night in the inter-club shoot held here by members of the Buhl Rifle and Pistol club.

Lewis ended the evening with a 293 high score out of a possible 300. Scores for the teams include Eckert Motor, 1,426 out of a possible 1,500, Anderson Motors, 1,401; West End Sporting Goods, 1,405, and Buhl Blacksmith, 1,370.

Individual scores include:

Eckert Motors—Lewis, 292; Thomas, 288; Pierce, 288; Rudd, 282, and Northup, 275.

West End Sporting Goods—Barnes, 284; Thomas, 288; Johnston, 288; Hendrix, 278, and Hartl, 269.

Anderson Motor—Major, 275; Smith, 290; Dean, 282; Hill, 279, and Bosworth, 275.

Buhl Blacksmith—Leitch, 282; Rolin, 285; Hill, 276, Thomason, 275; dummy score, 252.

A junior-senior buddy shoot will be held at 7 p. m. Friday at the local range with prizes going to the top shooters. A square dance will follow at 9 p. m.

Rupert's Outlaw Team Drops Two Close Cage Tilts

RUPERT, Jan. 25—The Rupert outlaw basketball team lost two games in three days by one-point margins in recent court action.

Twin Falls United Oil tripped the Rupert squad 68-67 Saturday and American Falls turned the trick 65-64 Monday. In both games Rupert was trailing by more than 12 points going into the final period but managed to rally for a thrilling finish.

Wally Peterman was high point man for Rupert in the game with Twin Falls, scoring 25 points. Meltzner led United Oil with 22. Peterman also was high in the American Falls contest, tallying 17 points while Hobbs scored 23 for the visitors.

Rupert takes on the Gates Brothers Gem Staters at 8:30 p.m. today in Rupert and will travel to Gooding Saturday to meet the Gooding Elks. The local squad also is entered in the annual Gooding outlaw tournament.

COP, Oregon Set Football Series

STOCKTON, Calif., Jan. 25 (AP)—College of the Pacific announced today that COP and the University of Oregon had signed for two home-and-home football games.

The first will be played at the [sc]hool's new $300,000 stadium here next Oct. 6; the second, at Eugene, Nov. 1, 1952.

COP and Oregon met just once before—in Eugene in 1946. Oregon won 7-6.

Buckeyes to Talk With Paul Brown

CLEVELAND, Jan. 25 (AP)—Paul Brown is going down to Ohio State university this week to talk about the school's head football coaching vacancy.

"Yes," said Brown, coach of the professional football champion Cleveland Browns, "I'm going to have a conference about the job at Ohio State. I received a letter inviting me to an interview."

But Brown, who once coached a national champion at Ohio State, refused to say whether he wanted his old job back.

Finnell Captures Cue Tourney Win

Floyd Finnell defeated E. G. Bracken 200-191 in 33 innings Wednesday night in the top game of the evening in the Twin Falls billiards tournament. Bracken had spotted his opponent a 120-point handicap score and had the high run of the evening with a 32.

Gene Holler spotted Lorin Laughlin 15 points in a 56-point game and lost 56-27 in 35 innings. Ben Trent spotted John Honstein 17 points in an 84-point game and won 84-66 in 67 innings.

Games Thursday in the A division of the tournament pair Ray Fries and Tom Wilson and David Lovelady and Harry Povey. B division action will send Gilbert McCarter against John Honstein and Ray Seeley against LaVelle Walker.

Rose Bowl In Danger Of Closing

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 25 (AP)—Paul Zimmerman, sports editor of the Los Angeles Times, says there is "grave danger" that the Pacific Coast conference will abandon its commitment to the Pasadena Rose bowl football game.

Zimmerman says he has learned from "most responsible sources" that Idaho, Washington State, Oregon and Oregon State are "definitely against the continuance of the pact with the Pasadena Tournament of Roses association," and that California, UCLA and Stanford are apt to swing into the same line of thinking "and Washington will go along with what the majority of the California schools do."

(T. H. Kennedy, Washington State college faculty representative to the PCC, said at Pullman, Wash., that WSC hasn't committed itself one way or the other, or expressed its position even informally.

("Our athletic council hasn't even met to discuss our stand," he said. "And I know nothing of any such alignment of those for and against. I'm secretary of the conference and if there was such a thing, I'd know about it."

(Kennedy said a meeting on the entire Rose bowl situation is planned some time next month. "We know the bowl is a spectacle, a tradition and important to football but there are problems," he added.

(Gale Mix, manager of athletics for the University of Idaho, wasn't available for comment.)

Southern California, Zimmerman says, is anxious to continue with the Rose bowl.

The Pacific Coast conference has had an agreement with the Western conference (Big 10) for the Rose bowl games, but it has expired and PCC faculty athletic members, meeting earlier this month in Riverside, Calif., announced they were debating whether to renew the arrangement.

Shopping Grid Coaches Eye Duquesne Men

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 25 (AP)—Football coaches shopping for pigskin talent are beating a path toward Duquesne university.

The school, which last week gave up the gridiron sport for the fourth time, has about 50 stranded freshmen, spohomore and junior footballers.

Some of them want to stay and continue their studies. Those who came to the school with a football career in mind don't have to worry.

In the market for the grid orphans are at least six schools. Pitt and Carnegie Tech, both local colleges, top the list. Others include St. Bonaventure, Washington-Jefferson and Boston university.

Also interested are Alabama, Chattanooga and Louisville, all recent Duquesne opponents. Duke officials also expect Villanova and Detroit to join in the quest of material.

Officials from Pitt, Carnegie Tech, Alabama, Chattanooga and Louisville already have looked over some of the players.

Pitt coach Len Casanova, who got the go-ahead signal from Bluff school officials to talk to the players, said:

"We're interested in a few of the boys if they are interested in Pitt. None of the fellows have talked to me yet but if they come around we'll talk to them."

What does acting Duquesne Coach Lou (Doc) Skender think about it?

"I feel partly responsible for most of the boys being at Duquesne and want to help them if they wish to continue playing. Some of them are still a bit confused," he said, adding: "There are some excellent prospects and, what's more, most of the boys are good students and would have no trouble matriculating at other schools."

Business Manager Named for Cards

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 25 (AP)—Two men active last year in promoting tryout camps for the St. Louis Cardinals have been named business managers of minor league clubs in the Cardinal farm system, the club announced today.

Robert C. Green, Whitehall, Ill., was appointed business manager of Pocatello, of the Pioneer league. He replaces Don Dix, who will be transferred to another job in the Cardinal organization.

Richard Roth, St. Louis, was named business manager of Albany, Ga., of the Georgia-Florida league.

Eight of the 12 members of the Duke university basketball team are juniors.

Church Union Conclave Still Minus Results

CINCINNATI, Jan. 25 (AP)—How far have seven Protestant church groups advanced toward a long-sought union?

That question still will bring a variety of answers after a two-day meeting here of the national conference on church union.

On the surface it would appear that the move toward a union of those seven groups is no farther along than it was when the meeting started here. The representatives of those groups had only a plan of union before them when they convened.

Redraft Ordered

Yesterday they voted to send that plan right back to their executive and drafting committee and have it all done over again.

Most of the observers at the two-day meeting seemed to feel, however, that the superficial facts didn't tell the story.

Their comment was that the group here had only a first draft of a merger plan. They added that the suggestions and proposals made here were necessary in order to bring forth a merger plan that would meet with the eventual approval of all seven demoninations—and perhaps two or three others.

Seven Named

The seven groups most directly concerned with the merger proposed in the meeting here are the Presbyterians of the U. S. A., the Presbyterians of the U. S., the Methodists, evangelical and reformed, Disciples of Christ, Congregational Christians and the Association of Community Churches.

Considered as likely joiners are the Colored Methodist Episcopal church and the African Methodist Episcopal church.

It was figured here that those nine groups have a maximum membership of 16,900,000 persons. There would be some duplication since some of the community churches are members of the other groups.

Report Made on Polio Fund Drive In Lincoln Area

SHOSHONE, Jan. 25—Ray Oyer, chairman of the Lincoln county march of dimes, Thursday announced that the drive will end Jan. 31. He is being assisted in the drive by Burrell Livingston, Shoshone, chairman; Ray Bernard, North Shoshone chairman; Mrs. Floyd Kisling, Dietrich chairman, and Mrs. Elmer Swatman, Richfield chairman.

Mrs. Santi Garmendia was chairman of the Basque polio dance at the Lincoln auditorium Saturday night. Music was furnished by Thorne's orchestra and Jimmy Jauroso. Oyer reports that the receipts were $797.08.

A lamb was donated by Frank Oneida and sons and was auctioned several times at the dance for $330.00. Martin brothers donated a pig which also was auctioned several times for $92.50 and then was turned to the Shoshone Livestock commission to be sold at their sale.

The check room was taken care of by Mary Stowell, Norma Gehrig, Betty Finlayson, Betty Bollinger, Barbara Morris and Marlene Carraway, junior high school girls.

Mrs. Phyllis Serpa, treasurer, reports that the Lincoln county chapter owes the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis $941.39 on loans made to the local chapter for care of Lincoln county patients. There were six patients in 1950 who received treatment and six patients prior to 1950 who were treated last year. The 1951 march of dimes will liquidate this debt.

Former Resident Of Burley Passes

BURLEY, Jan. 25—Word has been received in Burley of the death of Willard "Mutt" Selby, who died Jan. 4 at Chico, Calif., following a long illness.

Funeral services and burial were conducted Jan. 17 in California. Mr. Selby was graduated from Burley high school in 1934 and worked with his father, the late Charles Selby, in a meat market here. He later moved to Idaho Falls and then to California.

He married Ella Rutledge 12 years ago. Besides his wife he is survived by two children, Frances Jane and Glenn, his mother, Mrs. Ada Selby, California; and three brothers, Paul Selby and Orase Selby, Medford, Ore., and Charles Selby, address unknown.

Area Meetings of IOOF Scheduled

BURLEY, Jan. 25—Second degree of Odd Fellowship was conferred Tuesday night at the Burley IOOF meeting with Ed Trebilcock presiding as noble grand and Herschel Heilig as staff captain.

The third degree will be conferred at Hazelton Monday with the Rupert degree team in charge. The meeting will be a loop meeting for lodges in this area. On Friday night a loop meeting of Odd Fellow Encampments will be held at Buhl. The Filer team will confer the patriarchal degree.

Burley and Rupert Odd Fellows and Rebekahs will hold an apron and overall dance at Rupert Saturday night.

Upper River Project Plan Is Due Soon

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—Plans for the upper Colorado river project will be completed before Feb. 1, the interior department said today.

The project, including 10 or more major dams, and several power plants, would provide for full development of the Colorado and its tributaries in Utah, Colorado, Wyoming, New Mexico, and to a limited extent, Arizona.

In a letter to Senator Watkins, R., Utah, William E. Warne, assistant secretary of the interior, said the final report is being studied by other departments and by the interior department's staff.

He said the study should be finished before Feb. 1 and the report then will be sent to the states, which will have 90 days for review. With the comments of the states and of the departments, it then will be sent to congress.

Warne also said the reclamation bureau is going ahead as fast as possible toward getting the Weber basin project in north central Utah ready for construction. No building funds are included in the budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

PICNIC ATTENDED

KIMBERLY, Jan. 25—Two Sunday school classes of the Nazarene church of Kimberly held a winter picnic Monday evening in the south hills. The 27 young people were accompanied by Mrs. Nancy Tate, Jess Brown and Mrs. James Fraley.

Ex-Presidents of Club Lead Meet

BURLEY, Jan. 25—Past presidents of the Burley Rotary club were honored at the Tuesday noon meeting. Hermon E. King, a past president, was in charge of the meeting. He was assisted by LaMar Craner and Adonis Nielson; also past presidents.

Gene Coltrin, accompanied by Mary McMurray, played a horn solo, and Elaine Bachman played a piano solo. Roy Ehlers had charge of the entertainment.

William Roper, Irel Gudmundsen, Harry Harpster, I. H. Harris and George Klink, past presidents of the Burley club; Don Chisholm, who served as president in Nebraska, and Charles Balch, a past president of the Rupert club, related activities during their terms of office. Roy Ehlers told of James Hansel's term of office.

Guests were Glenn Tolman, Rupert, and Cliff Martin, Boise.

Dr. Charles Terhune will have charge of next Tuesday's meeting. Jacqueline Byrd, superintendent of the Cottage hospital, will be the speaker.

Speakers Listed

WENDELL, Jan. 25—Speakers at the LDS ward sacrament service Sunday evening were Lloyd Nelson and Ray Christensen, both of whom have been called as Blaine stake missionaries, and Chancey Willard, who has been active in Wendell ward MIA. Miles Hall, representing the Aaronic Priesthood, also spoke and the Aaronic Priesthood chorus, directed by J. Hawkins, sang. Bishop Ray H. Dixon conducted the meeting.

Kimberly Girl Recovering From Attack of Polio

Marjorie Morgan, left, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Morgan, Kimberly, and Inez Card, Boise, are shown in their iron lungs at Boise where they are recovering from attacks of polio. Marjorie, one of Twin Falls county's 1950 polio victims, has been in the iron lung since she caught the disease in September. Attendants report she is recovering and is allowed out of the iron lung for short periods now. Respirator cases such as Marjorie cost more than $700 a month to treat. All costs are paid with funds derived from the March of Dimes by the county chapters of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The 1951 March of Dimes is in progress now. (Staff engraving)

Students at ISC Plan Winter Show

IDAHO STATE COLLEGE, Pocatello, Jan. 25—Doris Ann Weaver and Mary Jean Deagle, Twin Falls coeds at Idaho State college, are members of the winter carnival executive committee. The carnival, the first at ISC, will be held Feb. 17-24. A highlight will be the election of a carnival queen from among ISC coeds.

Miss Weaver, a junior zoology major, is president of the Associated Women students and a member of Ski club, Cadettes, Delta Mu, Alpha Chi Omega, national social sorority, and Octagon, junior honorary society.

Miss Deagle, who is a sophomore drama major, is working with the snow sculpturing committee for the carnival. She is a member of social committee, Players club, Gamma Phi Beta, national social sorority and Spurs, service organization for sophomore women, and active in dramatics.

COURSES PLANNED

SOUTHERN IDAHO COLLEGE OF EDUCATION, Albion, Jan. 25—Two SICE extension courses will be started in Twin Falls this week and next. A course in playground supervision will be started at 7 p.m. Thursday at the courthouse and a class in elementary school physical education will begin at 7 p.m. next Wednesday at the courthouse.

School Program Extension Sought

BOISE, Jan. 24 (AP)—Extension of the present school reorganization program until July 1, 1953, was asked in a bill introduced in the Idaho senate today.

The present law provides that all unreorganized territory on July 1, 1951, shall be formed into class A, B or C districts by the state school reorganization committee.

The proposed bill would extend for two years the time county committees would be given to work out local reorganization plans.

Hurt in Fall

JEROME, Jan. 25—Ann Hof, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Hof, broke her collarbone when she fell during exercises in physical education class Monday. She was taken to the Wendell hospital.

Three Arrests Termed Tipoff On Smugglers

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (UP)—The arrest of three hollow-heel diamond smugglers may be the tipoff on an international smuggling ring involving gold and gems worth millions of dollars, federal authorities said today.

U. S. Attorney Frank J. Parker said two Europeans and a Brooklyn man caught trying to bring in diamonds worth some $1,600,000 concealed in hollow heels of their shoes in the past three days apparently "are part of the same international ring."

He said a full-scale investigation had been ordered of reports that New York diamond merchants are involved in a syndicate to smuggle gold out of the U. S. for black market sale overseas and buy diamonds to smuggle back into the U. S. for back market sale at twice their normal price.

Mrs. Eta Hoffman, 26, Czechoslovakian wife of a Belgian student, was jailed in default of $150,000 bail on charges of smuggling 1,000 cut and polished diamonds worth an estimated $1,000,000 from Antwerp in the soles and heels of her black platform wedgies. She was arrested Monday after alighting from a KLM plane at Idlewild airport.

Eli Stern, 29, Brooklyn, was arrested and held in $5,000 bail for trying a similar trick. Customs agents said they found almost $120,000 worth of cut and polished diamonds in the hollowed-out heels of his shoes. He had come to the U. S. from Amsterdam via Montreal, Que., and Havana, Cuba.

Dance Held

GLENNS FERRY, Jan. 25—The first social event to be held in the new LDS recreation hall, a square dance, was held Friday evening.

Stern Willard, Wendell, was the caller. An auction was held during intermission, proceeds of which went to help defray costs of construction of the building. Paul Inglebretson, building committee chairman, said another dance will be held Feb. 9 with Chancy Willard, Wendell, as caller.

Castleford Events, Activities Related

CASTLEFORD, Jan. 25—Carol Jean Blick, a student at the College of Idaho, Caldwell, was a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Blick, over the week-end.

The Range Riders are sponsoring a pie social at the gun club Friday evening. The public is invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Senften have returned from visiting in California.

Mrs. Lillian Quig has been called to Knoxville, Tenn., by the illness of her cousin, Mrs. Issie Butler.

Speaker Talks to Filer PTA Group

FILER, Jan. 25—Mrs. Francis Decker was in charge of the program at the meeting of the Victory Central PTA Tuesday. Mrs. Doris Stradley, county superintendent of schools, was the speaker. Mrs. Erma Latham, accompanied by Mrs. E. A. Beem, sang two solos.

The group will sponsor a minstrel show in the near future. Mrs. Fred Knapp will be in charge. A jamboree night will be held for seventh and eighth grade pupils at 8 p.m. Saturday at the school. Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Kauffman, Mr. and Mrs. V. Hunt and Mr. and Mrs. John Barlow.

Europe Promises Little for Own Defense

As this map shows, if the Kremlin decides on aggressive moves in Europe in the near future, the United States will have to depend largely upon itself for what resistance the western allies put up. Although President Truman and Prime Minister Attlee agreed that the defenses of western Europe must be strengthened as quickly as possible, the military confederation of the free nations—talked of for many months—is still largely a paper plan.

USAF Slates Huge Test of Air Defenses

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25 (AP)—The biggest air maneuver ever tried in the west will be held Feb. 1 through Feb. 4, as "aggressive" air fleets try to pierce the defense net over 11 states.

The project, to be known as the "air combat maneuver," was announced by Brig.-Gen. William M. Morgan, vice commander of the western air defense force.

Canadians Invited

Air force, army, navy, marine corps and civilian forces will be combined in the 11-state area. An invitation has also been sent to the Royal Canadian air force to join in, Morgan said.

"We must prove our techniques," the general told a news conference. "We have not yet attained full growth, but we do have substantial defense forces. We must take stock to see how far we have progressed and what needs to be done."

Real Test Planned

He said the simulated invasion would be as "nearly realistic as possible."

"We will not know the time or place they will strike or where they will take off. We don't know whether they're going to come in high or low. We will have no information as to the size of the aggressor force," Morgan said.

"Only after it is over will we be able to determine the result."

Little Effect Seen

Despite the size of the project, the public will probably notice little unusual action, Morgan said. Only if the attacking planes come in low will they be evident.

The maneuver will be under the western air defense force, which is commanded by Maj.-Gen. Hugo P. Rush, with headquarters at Hamilton field, near here.

Petition Made

DECLO, Jan. 25—The Declo PTA is circulating a petition objecting to Gov. Len Jordan's recommendations for cuts in the education budget of the state. Winfield Hurst, president of the PTA, said the governor's recommendations will impair the educational opportunities of the children by driving away qualified teachers.

Legislation Talk Is Featured for Meeting of PTA

A discussion of current legislation by Mrs. James Horne was featured at the Memorial Lutheran school PTA meeting Tuesday. Her talk was followed by a question period.

Formation of a 4-H home economics club for the seventh and eighth grade girls, sponsored by the PTA, has been completed, Erwin Koch told members. Teachers in charge of the group are Mrs. Bernard Funke, Mrs. Louis Reinke, Mrs. Abraham Amos and Mrs. Erhardt Lierman.

Plans for a founder's day program on Feb. 27 were announced by Mrs. Warren Skinner. The PTA variety show is set for Jan. 26.

During the business meeting Ernest Krueger was appointed representative to the Safety council, and a committee of three, Mrs. Irvin Eilers, Mrs. John Bohling and Mrs. Ernest Krueger was appointed to submit project ideas for 1951. The eighth grade graduation committee includes Mrs. Carl Spring, Mrs. George Jasper and Mrs. Jerry Packer.

Accordion and harmonica solos were presented by Mrs. Lois Feldbush. Mrs. Herman Stammerjohn presided at the meeting.

She wears the cleanest clothes in town

... her mother swears by TIDE!

She wears the cleanest clothes in town—
So does her little brother.
Their clothes are always washed with TIDE—
They've got a clever mother!

Tide GETS CLOTHES CLEANER THAN ANY SOAP!

CLEANEST WASH IN TOWN!

NO SOAP—NO OTHER PRODUCT SOLD THROUGHOUT AMERICA—WILL WASH AS CLEAN AS TIDE!

JUST TRY TIDE in your washing machine. Wring out your clothes, rinse them, and, lady, you'll hang up a cleaner wash than you'll get with any soap—or any other washing product sold from coast to coast! You'll get the cleanest wash in town!

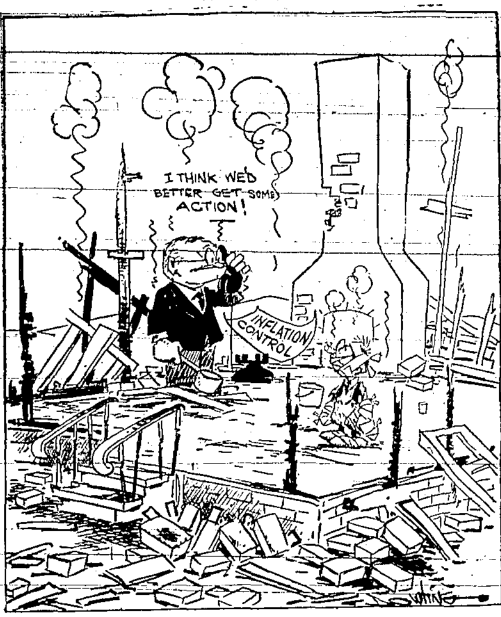

NOT ONLY CLEANER—WHITER, TOO! In hardest water, Tide will wash your shirts, sheets, curtains whiter than any soap! They'll be so shining white ... so radiantly clean, you'll never want to trust them to anything else but Tide!

AND BRIGHTER! Just wait till you see how your wash prints glow after a Tide wash! The colors look so crisp and fresh ... the fabric feels so soft ... irons so beautifully, you'll say there's nothing like Tide! And there isn't! Get Tide today—and hang the cleanest wash in town on your line!

P.S. PREFER TO SKIP RINSING?

With Tide you can skip the rinsing, and save all that time and work. Just wash, wring out, hang up. Tide will give you the cleanest possible no-rinse wash!

As the Situation Becomes More Serious

Analysis of Present Potato Situation Is Given for Growers by Farm Bureau

An analysis of the present potato situation was presented for potato growers of Twin Falls, Gooding and Cassia counties by the Farm Bureau here Tuesday.

Richard Westendorf, Twin Falls, chairman of the Magic Valley Farm Bureau potato group, presided.

Lavelle R. Thornton, Twin Falls, district organization director of the Idaho Farm Bureau federation reviewed the report of Porter R. Taylor, director of the fruit and vegetable department of the American Farm Bureau federation.

He pointed out that there is no support price on potatoes for the 1951 season. For the first time in five years the growers will have to study the situation for their own solutions to the potato problem.

Thornton explained that potato consumption has dropped 19 pounds per capita since 1945 and that department of agriculture estimates of 335,000,000 bushels of tubers in 1951 to fill the demand are accurate. He contrasted this production goal to the 431,000,000 bushels produced in 1950.

He said the 1950 yield was 13,000,000 bushels larger than the 1945 crop although it was grown on one-third less acreage.

The Farm Bureau representative said public policy is that supply should meet the expected demand of consumers. However, if unmanageable surpluses result, producer prices should be protected by adequate programs of providing the means by which the price-depressing portion of the supply is kept off the market.

Also, methods and facilities to handle such surpluses must be developed and maintained to protect consumers from high prices in years of short crops.

Thornton pointed to a Cornell university bulletin of 1948 which showed that less than one-fifth of the total potatoes displayed in retail stores were from lots which met requirements for U. S. No. 1 potatoes. Also, many of the potatoes in packages marked No. 1 were not really No. 1 potatoes.

The speaker pointed to certain economic factors which will determine which potato-producing areas will survive in the future. These factors are high production per acres with resulting low cost per bushel, the value of land for other purposes, nearness to markets, transportation costs, marketing methods, varietal preferences and other similar factors.

He said the practical way to handle the potato problem in the future is to let farmers plant any acreage they choose. The best of the crop could be used for table consumption and seed with the remainder used for other purposes in producing areas.

Facilities for processing potatoes for other uses should be owned and operated by producers who would benefit from use of such facilities through an improved price for the better grades of their crops, he said.

Questions the group prepared for consideration by Farm Bureau groups were:

1. Do potato growers want price supports in the future?

2. If price supports are wanted should the present mandatory support of 60 to 90 per cent of parity be changed to an optional support as determined by the secretary of agriculture with the rate of support adjusted to experience in the future?

3. Is the marketing agreement approach to improvement of the quality marketed and control of surplus by the industry, which brought about the ban of No. 2 potato shipping, desirable and practical?

4. Would a single national marketing agreement program be more desirable?

5. Should the Aiken amendment be continued with support limited to producing areas which restrict shipments through effective marketing agreement programs?

6. How can misbranding of potatoes be stopped by better federal and state laws and strict enforcement of these laws?

Present at the meeting were E. V. Walker, Burley; Roger Brown, Wendell; Louis Bulcher, Kimberly; J. R. Breeding, Murtaugh; Joe Froehlich, jr., and Blake Froehlich, both Hansen; Harvey Bickelhaupt, Buhl; Glenn Davis, Filer; Richard Westendorf, Twin Falls, and Dave Graybeal, Castleford.

Suit Filed Over Harvesting Cost

Pete Craner seeks a $337 judgment against Merlin Morgan in a suit filed Tuesday in probate court. Craner's complaint states he and Morgan were co-partners in farming near Murtaugh last summer.

Craner accuses Morgan of failing to pay his half of an $840 potato harvesting cost, necessitating that Craner pay $337 above his own share. Craner's attorney is J. H. Barnes.

Man Files Suit to Collect Back Pay

Setting forth conditions of his employment in a long complaint filed Tuesday in justice court, Pierce Roan seeks judgment against the Falk Mercantile company for $274.16 allegedly due in back pay, commissions and car allowances. Roan's attorney is J. H. Barnes.

The complaint states Roan was employed as a manager of four departments from Feb. 15, 1949, to Feb. 15, 1950, when he was transferred to work as a salesman.

Judgment Asked

In a suit filed Tuesday in probate court, Marvin Starry seeks judgment against Merlin Morgan for $213.43 allegedly due on a grocery account of $871.43.

Starry, doing business as Starry's Market, Murtaugh, also seeks six per cent interest from April 1, 1950. His attorney is J. H. Barnes.

States Trying To Hold Line On Tax Rates

CHICAGO, Jan. 23 (U.P.) — Some states may be forced to raise taxes, but others are trying to hold the line as citizens won't take a combined federal-state taxation whipping, it appeared today.

A check showed most state legislatures are conscious of the burden that will be imposed on taxpayers as the federal government hikes taxes to finance the defense effort.

In at least two states, Utah and Arizona, legislators are making strong attempts to reduce taxes, if possible.

Idaho Holding

States in which legislators are going all-out to hold taxes at or near present levels includes Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Nevada, New Jersey, New York, California, Ohio, South Dakota, Idaho, and North Dakota.

Legislators in Washington, Massachusetts, West Virginia, Minnesota and Texas are planning to boost some taxes—but "very reluctantly."

Residents of Oklahoma, Oregon, Missouri, Nebraska, Georgia and Pennsylvania have been warned they "definitely" will be paying higher states taxes soon.

Special Situations

In some cases, the higher taxes were necessitated by special situations. West Virginia, Oregon, Oklahoma and Pennsylvania need increased revenues for soldiers' bonuses. Iowa hoped to pay off its bonus from reserve funds and South Dakota planned to extend a current tax to finance a special bonus for the families of deceased veterans.

Most governors, however, trimmed budget requests this year, certain that their legislatures wouldn't hold still for any "luxuries" in state government.

Declo's Residents Travel, Entertain

DECLO, Jan. 23—Mrs. S. B. Richardson, accompanied by Mrs. Paul Penrod, Albion; Mrs. Blaine Turner and Mrs. R. W. Fewkes, Declo, has left for Salt Lake City to visit her husband, a patient in the LDS hospital there.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Turner, Salt Lake City, visited Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Turner over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Mason Buck, Salem, Ore., were recent Declo guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Balch, Tremonton, Utah, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lewis, over the week-end.

Activities in King Hill Are Reported

KING HILL, Jan. 25—Margaret Barnes has returned to Shawnee, Okla., after visiting her brother, Floyd Barnes.

Pat Timbers, Ruby Kimmell and Beth Howell have returned to Boise after visiting Miss Timbers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Timbers.

Betty Peita is visiting friends in Boise.

Mr. and Mrs. Terrell Foster were in Boise Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Moore and son have returned from a trip to Seattle.

Thelma Keeny, Eugene, Ore., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Orin Lipe, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Atwood are the parents of a son born last month at the Gooding hospital.

CHOCOLATE FLUFF CAKE MIXING TIME: 3 MINUTES!

Quicker, More Luscious—Made With Emulsorized SNOWDRIFT

In just 3 minutes mixing time, Snowdrift gives you a quick-method cake that's richer, lighter, deliciously moist! But remember, you can make these quick-method cakes only with an emulsorized shortening. And Snowdrift is emulsorized. Just combine all ingredients in one bowl. Emulsorized Snowdrift blends them so easily—so completely. Snowdrift is so pure and delicate, your cakes are finer-flavored—stay fresh longer. So be sure you use Snowdrift—be Snowdrift-Sure!

CHOCOLATE FLUFF CAKE
Rich, velvety layers ... fluffy chocolate icing decorated with pastel mints
A Snowdrift Quick-Method Recipe

Sift together into a large bowl:
2½ cups sifted cake flour
3 teaspoons double-action baking powder (or 4 tsp. single-action)
1 teaspoon salt
1½ cups sugar
Add: ½ cup shortening
¾ cup milk
Mix enough to dampen flour. Beat 2 minutes. If by hand, count beating time only. With electric mixer use "low speed." Scrape bowl often; scrape beaters after 2 minutes.
Add: 3 eggs
¼ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
Beat 1 minute. Bake in 2 greased 8-inch layer pans, lined with plain paper in moderate oven (375° F.) about 30 minutes. Cool. Frost with—
CHOCOLATE FLUFF FROSTING: Cream 4 tablespoons Snowdrift with ½ cup sifted confectioners' sugar. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla and 3 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted and blend. Beat 2 egg whites until stiff; add ½ cup sifted confectioners' sugar (2 tablespoons at a time) and beat after each addition. Continue beating until mixture stands in peaks. Fold into chocolate mixture. Frost cake. Decorate like picture, with pastel-colored mints cut in half.
